Omar's Evil Suggestion Gold Among Skeletons Mexico—Great Oil Well What Value Has Wells?

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1922, Star Co.

An unfortunate woman, at Atlantic City, separated from her husband, killed herself and three daughters yesterday, leaving this quotation from the Rubaiyat:

"What if the soul could cast the earth aside
And naked on the air of heaven ride;
Were't not a shame, were't not a shame indeed
In this clay carcass longer to abide?"

Many suicides, probably, have been harmed by these lines of Omar.

And drunkards have found in the Rubaiyat excuses for their drunkenness. But Omar Bin Brahoem Al Khayyamee, to give him part of his full name, while he wrote praising alcohol and suicide, was neither a drunkard nor a suicide. He was a good mathematician, a scientist and died peaceably in his native town. Do what he DID, not what he suggested.

Gold lasts, and man's love for it. A Philadelphia concern will try to salvage the steamship Lusitania. In the Lusitania's iron body lie many skeletons, white and grinning. Powerful machinery lies idle, cartridges that will never explode are still in their boxes. Old and young, men, women and children, their flesh long since gone to feed the darting fishes, lie in the wreck. All these will be found and left. There is gold in the ship. One passenger had seventy-five thousand dollars' worth of it. Another had about $100,000 in care of the purser. Millions in gold are there. As to getting gold the salvaging expedition will go. The rest doesn't interest them. Skeletons lose their interest. Gold never.

Sir Henri W. A. Detriding, head of the Royal Dutch Shell Combination, and boss of the Russian and other oil wells, is said to be the most powerful, best informed man in the oil business of the world.

Sir Henri talked about oil at a dinner given in his honor by Lewis L. Clarke, president of the American Exchange Bank, just before he sailed for Europe.

Among other things the international oil man says there is enough oil underground to supply gasoline and fuel for ships "for centuries to come." Mexico is one gigantic oil field—nobody has any conception of the oil wealth under the ground there.

In regard to Russia, Sir Henri says that his great company "wants only what is rightfully ours." He is a powerful man, and you get the impression that after he has got what he thinks is rightfully "his," there won't be much left.

"How valuable is H. G. Wells' 'Outline of History'?" Many discuss that question. The Wells "Outline of History" is of the greatest value. It does not merely teach history; it makes men and women want to know history. And what is more important, it makes them think for themselves after they have read.

Whether civilization, as we know it, began in the fertile Nile valley, or earlier in Mesopotamia, that "land between the rivers" watered by the Tigris and the Euphrates, is not important.

Whether man started in the tropics and lost his hair by the action of heat, gradually coming down from the trees and walking north on his rear legs, or whether he started in the north living in the caves and thinking, snowbound, all Winter long, losing his hair because he covered himself with heavy skins of other animals, makes no difference.

Whether the moon was formed by a gigantic "chunk" thrown off from this earth, creating the hole which is now the Pacific Ocean, whether it was made up of a considerable number of planetoids attracted by each other and to make one big ball, or whether the whole thing as we see it was planned, as the majority believe, by a wise divine power, makes no difference so far as real education is concerned.

It isn't of much what you know as what you TRY TO KNOW. It isn't so much the absolute accuracy of your views on how the whole lost its legs, or the bird got its wings, as the amount of thinking you do. Wells makes you think, as do all other good histories and good books. And history as written is largely conjecture and prejudice anyhow.

The most cursed man in history was Louis the Eleventh. And there isn't any doubt that he was the best King that France or any other monarchy had in a thousand years.

Learned educators in Philadelphia discuss the value of education "as an aid to foreign trade."

It has great value, and of all education the most important in foreign trade and other things is POLITENESS.

Tact, sympathy and understanding, self-effacement, listening to the other man instead of forcing him to listen to you—everything that comes under the heading "politeness," is vitally important in foreign trade, vitally important in home trade, and

Pick Carpentier to Beat Lewis

BIG CROWD ATTENDS CONTEST

Frenchman Heavy Favorite as Men Enter the Ring in London Stadium

London, May 11.—Georges Carpentier ruled a heavy betting favorite for his twenty-round bout with Ted (Kid) Lewis here tonight.

A tremendous crowd was on hand to see the rivals battle. Most of the fans were anxious to see Lewis win, but they were forced to admit his chances of victory were very slim.

Jack Dempsey, Jack Kearns and a party of friends were among the early arrivals. They occupied seats close to the ring.

Dempsey and Kearns did not make a secret of the fact they desired Carpentier to win. A quick victory for the Frenchman will mean another Dempsey-Carpentier match.

Carpentier declared he would strive for a knockout. He stated he would force the issue from the sound of the bell in the opening round and would bank his all on the power of his right hand punch.

Lewis, on the other hand, planned to rely upon clever boxing to win.

20 PASSENGERS MISSING IN BLIZZARD

400 LABOR LEADERS ARE HELD

Chicago Union Cafe Taken in Roundup Following Murder of Two Policemen

Chicago, May 11.—The detective bureau and city jails were crowded today with 400 labor leaders and others held in connection with the murders of two policemen here early yesterday and the bombing of two buildings, which police attributed to labor disorders.

Two men have been pointed out as resembling men in the automobile from which shots which killed Terrance Lyons, actig lieutenant, were fired. Rewards totaling $20,000 have been offered for the arrest of the slayers.

All law enforcement organizations in the city are united in what police term "a fight to the finish with organized labor."

100 LEADERS IN TOILS.

More than 100 labor leaders, including "Big" Tim Murphy, Cornelius Sheat and Fred Mader, president of the Building Trades Council, are among those under arrest. Raids on labor headquarters brought in labor bosses by the score yesterday.

The two partly identified as the slayers are, police say, Isadore Braverman, twenty-eight, and Max Glass, thirty-three.

Braverman is said to have fired the shots from an automobile when Lieutenant Lyons was killed and he was pointed out by James A. McClellan and Frederick Blank, patrolmen, who were in the car with Lyons when he was shot to death and when Albert Moeller, patrolman, was seriously injured. The identification is not positive as Braverman's family has advanced an alibi for him.

Glass, who is a member of the Glaziers' Union, was arrested in a raid on union headquarters and was pointed out by a man who said he was an eyewitness as the slayer of Thomas Clarke, thirty, patrolman, who was on guard at a building which previously had been attacked.

"MISTAKE," SAYS MADER.

James Lafferty, a third suspect, who has been at liberty under heavy bond in connection with a mail robbery, was partly identified by Policeman Blank as the third man who rode in the death car.

Charles C. Fitzmorris, Chief of Police, said he bet even the men were only hirelings of the "higher-up forces in organized labor circles, putting into action a conspiracy to overthrow the Citizens' Committee

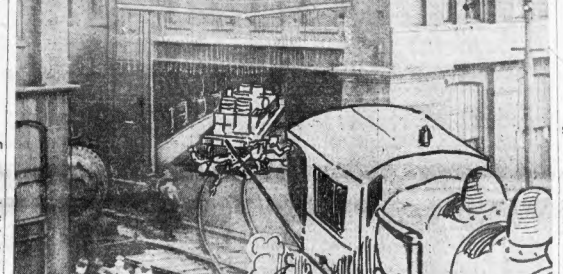
How Men Met Death in Charlestown

Unusual Accident, in Which Two Were Killed and One Seriously Hurt



SCENE OF CHARLESTOWN ACCIDENT

Photo-diagram shows how men, working near curve, were crushed against platform when engine and cars suddenly bore down on them.

2 KILLED, 1 HURT BY TRAIN IN CHARLESTOWN

Two workmen were killed and one seriously injured today when they were crushed against a platform by a twelve-car train running through a tunnel in the Potter & Wrightington grist mill in Charlestown, just beyond the bridge.

The men killed and injured were employed by the Waldo Bros. & Bond Company, which has a plant next to the Potter & Wrightington factory.

The dead:

Michael McCarthy, twenty-nine years old, of Charlestown. He was a machinist, and was killed instantly.

Edward Benoit, thirty years old, of No. 1218 Cambridge street, Cambridge. He died at the Relief Hospital a few minutes after the accident.

Joseph Lyons, twenty-six years old, of Chester avenue, Revere, is at the Relief Hospital in a serious condition. His name is on the danger list.

There is a sharp curve near the platform against which two lives were crushed out.

According to officials of the Waldo Bros. & Bond concern, the men were specifically forbidden to stand in the pit in which they were killed.

Fred Stevens of Charlestown was the engineer of the train which killed the two men, but the engine does not run through the little tunnel, shoving the cars ahead from one end and picking them up at the other.

McCarthy went to work for the company only yesterday.

Japan Backs Up France

Genoa, May 11.—Japan, it was stated today, has joined forces with France in her determination not to indulge in protracted negotiations with the Russians.

If You're Happy at 3 A. M., Do Not Crow About It!

What is "getting-up" time for a rooster?

Danny, a big Rhode Island Red, owned by Robert S. Grainger, No. 41 Hunt street, Quincy, is in doubt.

Danny cost his owner a $25 fine. Neighbors said Danny crowed too darned early and woke 'em up.

"Gosh," said Danny today, strutting forth in mighty rooster fashion. "I just couldn't stay in bed these nice mornings. It was so nice I couldn't help telling the world. Now, as I'm not lazy like most folks the boss gets fined because I crow. Guess this ain't no place for an ambitious rooster."

Grainger appealed from the fine.

FIVE SAVED AS FIRE SWEEPS WEST ACTON

West Acton, May 11.—Five children were carried to safety by firemen when a $100,000 fire destroyed two dwelling houses, a hotel, garage, machine shop, electrical shop and threatened destruction to the Public Library, fire station and a score of homes today.

The children rescued were the family of Daniel M. Dougal. They occupying the second floor of the building once known as the Windsor Hotel. Firemen carried them from their beds, their parents fleeing in night clothes.

The blaze started from an undetermined cause in the garage owned by Hobart E. Nead and leased by Albert Davis. Four automobile trucks and thirteen touring cars were destroyed. An auto accessory shop owned by Stephen Saumon of Eschoes and an electrical repair shop owned by Benjamin King adjoining the garage were wiped out.

From the garage the flames communicated with the hotel and from there to two dwelling, driving five families into the street in night clothes.

ATTACKS MAYOR IN SPEECH IN HOUSE

Says Boston Executive Is the Worst Man Ever Elected to Office in the State

Representative Martin M. Lomasney, Democratic leader in the West End, electrified the House of Representatives this afternoon by a particularly vitriolic attack upon Mayor James M. Curley.

He called Curley "a common, notorious thief" and "the dirtiest crook ever elected to office in Massachusetts."

He said if all the men who had "passed Curley coin" were put in a row they would reach from the State House to Dedham.

Lomasney's attack was called forth by Mayor Curley's statement of yesterday in connection with the Boston Elevated Control Act.

CURLEY AT STATE HOUSE HEARING DEMANDS GREATER BOSTON

MAYOR HOTLY ATTACKED BY LOMASNEY IN HOUSE

He said, among other things, that Mr. Lomasney should be driven out of Boston for his alleged connection with the passage of that act.

Mr. Lomasney rose to a question of personal privilege during the afternoon session and was soon in full swing in his tirade against the Mayor.

"He calls Governor Cox the manikin of Charles Innes,' said the Mahatma. "Yet he joined with Innes to put me out of business ten years ago.

"I challenged Curley, the common and notorious thief, to debate his record with me. He kept quiet. He quit.

"I told him to his face what I thought about him. The people who have passed him coin and who could turn him up would reach from here to Dedham if they stood in a line. "He took coin from a fellow for taking the civil service examinations for him.

"Colonel John Dillon, who always gave his time to the Irish cause, had to divide his salary with Curley for the job that Curley gave him.

"Dillon, with tears streaming down his cheeks, told me so.

"Curley is the dirtiest crook that was ever elected to office in Massachusetts."

Mayor Curley, appearing before the legislativ committee on street railways today to oppose the bill to establish a metropolitan transit commission, demanded the aid of the Legislature in the creation of a Greater Boston.

He said he realized a bill to create a Greater Boston would automatically legislate him out of office and he was willing to go.

The Mayor condemned the municipal transit commission bill as a weak one which might result in placing street railway affairs back in the hands of "the financial magnates who control the Elevated."

But he used the bill to illustrate his argument that the cities and towns which comprise Greater Boston now should in reality be part of the city, with concentration of the administration of the fire, police, water and street departments and a central governing body.

FOR GREATER BOSTON.

Mayor Curley said: "A Greater Boston bill would legislate me out of office, but I would be in favor of it because of the good it would do in uniting all the cities and towns of this great district.

"This bill creates a district for transportation purposes on the theory that the public will benefit by having transportation services in the district under the control of a single commission.

"If such a union is the means of solving transportation problems, why should not the principls be applied to the supply of water to the inhabitants of the district; to the prevention of fires through the single control of all fire departments; to the maintenance of sewers and streets and schools, hospitals, libraries, penal and charitable institutions, and to the assessment and collection of taxes?

"Before a transit district is created, a Greater Boston should be created, vesting all governmental power, not merely inthe matter of transportation, in a single governing body elected by the people."

ATTACKS ELEVATED.

The Mayor was caustic in his criticism of the bill to create a municipal transit commission, which would unite administration of street railways in the Greater Boston district and make fares uniform.

"A proper bill would include provisions to tear down existing Elevated structures," he said.

"The existence of such structures from Sullivan square in Charlestown to Forest Hills is a palpable outrage upon the people who are compelled to live in the immediate vicinity.

"This bill would vest control of street railways in the financial magnates who at present control the Elevated. Boston would have to pay 75 per cent. of the deficit in operating expenses.

"The Boston Transit Commission would be legislated out of office and forced to suspend its plans to spend $2,500,000 near the East Boston terminal and $5,500,000 to extend the tunnel system in Dorchester. It would guarantee dividends for all time to come and make no provision for lower fares."

ALLEN TO ACT.

Mayor Curley also told a legislative committee today that Attorney-General Allen informed him last night he was "about ready" to investigate the passage of the Boston Elevated Control Act.

He said the Attorney-General made the admission at a public meeting.

The Mayor added that he believed the men who "foisted the public in putting the Elevated Control Act over" were beyond the pale of protection.

He and Attorney Sherman L. Whipple have a bill before the Legislature to get the opinion of the Attorney-General on the legality of the Elevated Control Act in view of the alleged bribery involved in its passage.

Given $50,000 for Cutting Hair of Eccentric Uncle

Taunton May 11.—Walter S. Strange, nephew of Andrew J. Webster, eccentric (septuagenarian) farmer of Freetown, will receive nearly $50,000 as a reward for cutting the old man's hair and trimming his beard.

Mr. Webster made his feast that he had never been in a barber's chair in his life. His torial requirements were attended to by Mr. Strange.

Now the old man's will, filed in the Bristol County Court in Taunton, says that Mr. Strange shall receive $20,000, all his real estate and a fifth share in the residuary estate.

(.ther relatives share nearly $80,000.

A. A. R. I. R IS NOT BACKING SHIP LINE

New York, May 11.—The American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic, in a statement issued today denies that it sponsors or is in any way associated with the so-called American Irish Industrial Development Association, or the steamship company known as the United Irish lines. The statement expressed condemnation of the use by these two organizations of the association's resolution for boycott of British shipping lines to gain publicity for "stock selling and voluntary subscription organizations."

ALLEN CASE IS BEFORE GRAND JURY AGAIN

Witnesses who testified before the Grand Jury some time ago when Attorney-General J. Weston Allen was indicted for alleged larceny of $155.49 from a client, Mrs. Nellie G. Beck, now Olson were heard today by the present Grand Jury.

A report will be made tomorrow.

The indictment returned during the almost daily clashes between the then District Attorney, Joseph C. Pelletier? and Mr. Allen was recently ordered quashed by Judge Fessenden in Superior Criminal Court.

The order was given on the grounds of irregularities in the Grand Jury room at teh time the indictment was returned.

But a few minutes was consumed hearing witnesses today.

Action of another Grand Jury overruling action taken by a previous jury will erase any stigma attached to the returning of the previous indictment.

50 SPECIAL SHEETS GONE FROM TREASURY

Washington, May 11.—The report of the special treasury committee which made an inventory of the supplies and equipment of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving following the recent reorganization of the bureau personnel, completed today, is understood, to be a substantial vindication of the declaration by treasury officials that no material output of illegal bond, note or stamp issues has taken place within recent years. A discrepancy of some fifty sheets was found when a check was made of the special paper used in the bureau for printing bonds and notes.

CHARGE WEEKS BLOCKED WAR GRAFT PROBE

Accused of Getting Case Out of Hands of U. S. Attorney; $6,000,000 Overpaid

By Cosmopolitan News Service.

Washington, May 11.—The name of Secretary of War Weeks appeared in a new chapter of the war graft scandal today through a statement of Representative Woodruff, Republican, of Michigan, that the case of the Wright-Martin Aircraft Corporation, involving approximately $6,000,000 overpayments by the government, was taken out of the hands of the United States attorney in New York at the request of Secretary Weeks.

According to charges placed on record in Congress and which it is said will be supported by further evidence, Secretary Weeks attempted to delay action on the Wright-Martin case, which is declared to involve flagrant frauds, through activities of Charles Hayden, a director of the accused company.

"PERMITTED FRAUDS."

A memorandum by Assistant Secretary of War Wainwright to Secretary Weeks shows the former reported the case to be beyond the jurisdiction of the War Department. After the case was withdrawn from the hands of the United States attorney at the alleged request of Secretary Weeks no suit was brought, although every hearing was decided in favor of the justness of the government's claims.

The charges laid before Congress involve Thomas L. Chadbourne of New York, lawyer and financier, who figured conspicuously in the Wilson administration.

A memorandum written March 18 to Assistant Attorney-General Goff, who is in general charge of the investigation of war fraud causes, recommended that the facts involving Chadbourne, a director of the Wright-Martin Company, and the other members of his law firm, Chadbourne, Babbitt & Wallace, be laid before the grievance committee of the New York Bar Association, at that time investigating Chadbourn's conduct following debarment proceedings.

TOOK $70 PER CENT.

These men (referring to Chadbourne and his two law partners) while beneficiaries of government fees have stood by and permitted the government to be defrauded if not actually participating in the frauds, says the memorandum written by H. L. Scaife, then one of the Department of Justice war contract investigators.

The report of the government audit says the profits charged and collected amounted to $70 per cent. It was disclosed, according to the information laid before Congress, that in the company after its contract with the government was terminated proceeded to buy back from the government certain properties. One voucher produced covered the sale of semi-finished tools and work in process. For the sum of $24,870.37 the Wright-Martin company bought of the government materials it had sold to the government for $792,865.03.

House Drive for War Graft Query

Washington, May 11.—A drive was begun in the House today by ex-service members demanding prosecution of war contract grafters for passage of the Johnson-Woodruff resolution, directing Congressional investigation into causes of delay by the Departments of Justice and War.

WANT CITY TO YIELD 3 FEET OF SIDEWALK

The question as to whether the city can claim a three-foot strip of land between Baltimore street and Harrison avenue on Kneeland street entered a hearing before the street commissioners today. Ellis L. Snyder has plans for an 8-story commercial building in that section. He said he wanted to build flush with the sidewalk and there is a three-foot strip for entrances to six basement stores. He contended the city had no legal claim to the strip.

Ex-Fire Commissioner John R. Murphy appeared in the interests of the O'Riordan estate on the question of the third widening of Chelsea street, Charlestown. With other he was anxious to learn when the widening was to take place.

A decision in both matters will be made shortly.

LYNN SHOEMEN AGREE TO ARBITRATION PLAN

Lynn, May 11.—Acceptance of the arbitration proposal advanced by Mayor Harlan A. McPhetres to settle the shoe controversy here was announced today by the manufacturers. The union has already accepted. The representative of the latter, to be chosen tomorrow, will meet with Harry D. Linscott, named today by the manufacturers, to select the third member of the board.

The industry has been disturbed for weeks by failure to agree on a new contract, the manufacturers demanding a 20 per cent. cut and the union conceding a 15 per cent. reduction. There are differences also on the question of working hours.

and the Landis ware award," a decision handed down by K. M. Landis, former Federal Judge, then acting as arbiter, which was intended to settle labor disputes between members of the Building Trades Council and the labor unions. The Citizens' Committee was formed to aid in enforcing this decision.

"I think this is all a mistake," Fred Mader, president of the Building Trades Council, said, "I've been trying to play clean. We regret the death of the policemen as much as the officers and when the results of the investigation are sifted I believe they will find that other than labor men were to blame for the crime."

WOMEN IN DRAGNET.

"It's just another bum rap like the rest they have handed me," Tim Murphy said.

"I'm no copper killer. I never slugged a cop in my life. The only thing I ever had to do with them was to buy one a drink.

"Fitzmorris has insulted me, and vitally important in all things, especially in the family.

This country has too little politeness, as it has too little education, too little music and too little of some other things.

Knowledge of language in foreign trade, knowledge of customs, including the usual credits, the country's method of doing business, all are important, but POLITENESS is r st IMPORTANT.

don't know anything about this at all. He's just using his dislike for me out on my friends and I suppose it's the sweatbox for us for a while."

Women were not immune from the police dragnet and Miss Evaline Flood, said to be secretary to Murphy, is being held for questioning with several other women connected with labor organizations.

Chief of Police Fitzmorris and State Attorney Crowe announced a war to the finish on crooked labor leaders. Chief Fitzmorris issued the following statement:

"The slaughter of the two policemen while on duty is an inevitable result of the tactics employed by Fred Mader, 'Tim' Murphy, 'on' Shea and the other hoodlums and ex-convicts who have gone about posing as leaders of labor.

GUILTY AS ANARCHISTS.

"Now that they want war with the police department they will get it. They are just as guilty of the murder of these policemen killed, in cold blood, as the Anarchists were in the killing in the Haymarket riots.

"They no more represent honest labor than the Anarchists did.

"Labor does not need them and the police won't have them around."

Authorities say they have the "higher-ups" in their hands and expect to identify them from confessions to be wrung from the actual slayers.

The State's attorney, in volunteering two special prosecutors and seven of his assistants to aid the police chief, forestalled efforts made to obtain the release on writs of habeas corpus of Murphy, Shea and Mader an hour following their arrest. He induced Judge Kickham Scanlan and Judge Joseph David, before whom application for the writs were made to postpone decision, and he arranged to hold the Grand Jury in session throughout the day in order to obtain indictments that will hold the labor leaders imprisoned.

LABOR DOCUMENTS SEIZED.

All documentary evidence and weapons seized by the police raiders in the labor headquarters were turned over to Mr. Crowe for this purpose. Stenographic statement by the prisoners and witnesses also were shot to his office as fast as they were completed.

The citizens' committee to enforce the Landis building trades wages awards today carried full-page advertisements in every Chicago paper calling on Chicagoans to unite and rid the city of "gunmen labor leaders." The advertisements said that the committee had been warned by Fred Mader, head of the building trades unions, that a campaign of violence would result if the Landis awards were enforced. Referring to this, the advertisement said:

"We will fight these labor murderers, gunmen and sluggers with every legitimate power in our means until we have rid Chicago entirely of this menace."

The advertisements charged that under the leadership of "Fred Mader, an ex-convict," the unions had "descended from bombing and slugging to wanton and cold-blooded murder."

TELLS MORE OF SCIENCE SPLIT

More details of the split in the board of directors of the Christian Science Church came to light today when William R. Rathbon, member of the board, took the stand again at the resumption of the hearing before Judge Frederic Dodge as master in the petitioned filed by John V. Dittemore, to be reinstated as a member of the board.

Mr. Rathbon denied that he had ever said that some of the bylaws of the Mother Church and not been written by Mrs. Eddy herself, nor could he remember that at a meeting of the board Adam H. Dickey, then the chairman, had said that a mistake had been made in adding to the manual of the church the words "Manual of Mary Baker Eddy."

"You don't recall, Mr. Dickey saying: 'We all know that Mrs. Eddy did not write it?'" Attorney William G. Thompson, counsel for Mr. Dittemore, asked the witness.

"I certainly do not," replied Mr. Rathbon.

Under cross-examination by Walter A. Dane, attorney for the directors, Mr. Rathbon told of statements regarding the members of the board, which he alleged had been made by Mr. Dittemore.

"He called the other members 'Bolsheviks,'" said the witness. "When I challenged that statement, he replied, "Oh, Rathbon, I know very well what you are after."

He had not been on the board three weeks, Mr. Rathbon declared, when Mr. Dittemore began accusing him of having tried to turn his (Dittemore's) friends away from him.

A few days prior to his being dropped from the board, Dittemore, said Rathbon, had said to him regarding the other members of the board:

"That man Dickey would not stop at anything to gain his ends. Merritt (another member) is stupified and mentally asleep. Neal is the greatest little trimmer you ever saw, and I'm disappointed in you, Rathbon."

MRS. STILLMAN TELLS STORY OF A RING

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 11.—Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, undergoing cross-examination by lawyers for James A. Stillman, who is suing her for divorce, today stuck to her story that nothing important had ever taken place with Fred Beauvais, Indian guide, alleged to be the father of young Guy Stillman.

The inscription "F. B." in a plain gold ring Beauvais gave her did not represent the initials of the guide, but simply the trade stamp of a Montreal firm of jewelers, it was testified by Peter Kuhn, a Poughkeepsie jeweler.

REFORMER ACCUSES U. S. DISTRICT ATTORNEYS

Washington, May 11 (By International News Service).—Declaring the United States District Attorneys had been "tampered with," Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent of the International Reform Bureau, today charged that the showing of prize fight films in a score of States in violation of the Rodenberg act was a "menacing public scandal." He said Federal attorneys were "lax in their duty because they knew Attorney-General Daugherty had been counsel for Jack Dempsey when the latter was tried as an alleged war slacker."

DANCES AT LYNN Y. M. C. A. CALLED LURE OF SATAN BY CHURCH

PROTEST IS MADE TO OFFICERS

Pastor's Wife Says Too Many Young People Are Led Astray by Waltzes

Dancing is branded as the wile of the devil and denounced even when done in the Lynn Y. M. C. A., by the members of the Swedish Congregational Church, Johnson street, Lynn.

The position of the church is made plain in a resolution condemning the action of the Y. M. C. A. authorities in not only allowing but actually inviting young men and young women to such parties.

The resolution reads:

tention of members of this church that regular dancing parties are being given and have been arranged by the Lynn Y. M. C. A., inviting our young Christian men to take part, and in order to be admitted to the floor to bring with them a young woman friend, and whereas we believe and teach that dancing is unbecoming a true Christian, and to be against sound Christian doctrine and a detriment to our church and a dishonor to the name Christian; therefore,

"Be it resolved, that we, the members of the Swedish Congregational Church of Lynn, strongly protest against dancing within the Y. M. C. A., where so many of our dear young men are active members."

SIGNED BY PASTOR.

The resolution of protest is signed by the Rev. Gustaf Anderson, pastor of the church; C. K. Swanson, chairman, and Fred Dahlman.

Herbert S. Smith, secretary of the Lynn Y. M. C. A., asked for a comment on the resolution, said:

"It is against the policy of the Y. M. C. A. to enter into any controversy or discussion upon such matters. That is all that I can say under the circumstances."

Other members of the "Y," however, declared the Y. M. C. A. is supported largely by the churches and that a number of clergymen are on the board of trustees and that the question of dancing in the building had been thrashed out before any steps were taken to hold the dancing parties.

YOUNG LED ASTRAY.

"It is more than unlikely that the Y. M. C. A. will take any official notice of the passage of the resolution by the Swedish Congregational Church," one of the officials of the Y said. "There is nothing for us to say."

Mrs. Gustav Anderson, wife of the pastor, said: "I do not believe the Y. M. C. A. is the place for dancing. There are so many young people being ledastray today at dances that we believe even dancing in the Y. M. C. A. is wrong. Our church constitution forbids dancing anywhere."

A number of young men, members of the Swedish Congregational Church, are active members of the Lynn Y. M. C. A. None of them could be found today who would discuss the situation.

New York, May 11.—Negotiations for merger of the Pierce Arrow Motor Car Company and the Lafayette Motors Company, which J. and W. Seligman & Co., bankers, expected to conclude this week, have been "temporarily delayed, it was reported today. The fact that the companies are incorporated under the laws of different States developed a complication of legal points that must be ironed out.

Beaten Unconscious by Bandits Because He Had Little Money

GEORGE J. SWEENEY.

CHARGES WIFE WAS SPY; ASKS DIVORCE

Haverhill, May 11.—Charging that his wife, whom he married during the war in order that she might be admitted to this country, was a German spy and had a husband living in Canada, Archie Porro of No. 206 Wilson street, this city, is asking the court to annul his marriage.

"I met her at the immigration station on Long Island, in Boston harbor, during the war," declared Porro today, in telling the tale of his marital troubles. "She was anxious to get into the country, a thing she had tried several times, but always had been turned back by the authorities.

"Then I came along, and I guess I was a 'fall guy.' Anyhow, I agreed to marry her. After the ceremony she came to my home in Haverhill, accompanied by her mother.

"I soon found that she had ten times as much money as I had and was a lavish spender. People used to come to our home at all times of the day and night and she would be locked up in a room talking to them, and very mysterious and secret about it all.

"That was bad enough, but when she began using what little money I had saved up, I got to looking into her record. I found out that she had a husband living in Canada. Then I learned that she was employed by the German secret service, and that she had plans of munition plants in this State, which she was getting ready to send to Berlin.

"That was too much for me. I turned her over to the immigration authorities and she was deported.

"Later I found out that she was known by a lot of names, Hilda E. Trite, alias Eva W. Wilson, alias Eva H. Mattin, alias Eva Ferber."

The court has Porro's petition under advisement, pending proof of his assertion of his wife's former marriage.

WOMAN HELD FOR STORE THEFTS

Miss Margaret Slater, forty-seven years old, of Washington street, South End, for three years assistant matron in a downtown department store, was in court today charged with stealing men and women's underwear and household articles valued at $900.

She pleaded guilty and the case was continued until Thursday for disposition.

Miss Slater told Inspectors Burke and Lyons she began stealing and could not stop. She secreted the stolen articles in her clothing as she went about the store. Three hundred articles were recovered.

HELD FOR MENACING WIFE WITH REVOLVER

Pallo H. Livoll, forty-three years old, of Berkeley street, Watertown, was held in $1,000 for the Grand Jury in Waltham Court today, charged with brandishing a revolver at his wife Jenny. Police charged him with threatening to kill Mrs. Livoll when he came home and found her preparing to go to town.

Camp Dix, N. J., May 11.—About 400 members of the 7th Field Artillery left here today for Camp Devens, where they expect to arrive about May 28. It is a distance of 320 miles. The longest march in one day will be twenty-two miles and the shortest ten miles.

AUTO BANDITS IN BRIGHTON HOLD UP 3

Three bandits drove through the streets of Brighton a few minutes before midnight, holding up three men and unmercifully beating one when they discovered he had no money.

Their machine was last seen on Washington street, heading in the direction of Brookline.

All were said to be young and dressed in dark clothes. They rode in a high-powered closed car, which police of the Brighton station believe was stolen.

ALLSTON MAN LOSES WATCH.

The first man encountered was Frank S. McHugh of Emery road, Allston. He was walking on Long avenue, Allston, when the bandits drove up in their machine and stopped beside him.

McHugh was relieved of $5 and a gold watch and chain.

After leaving McHugh the gangsters drove away until they overtook Frank Duffy of No. 72 Arlington street, Brighton, walking on that street, a block or so from his home.

ROBBED OF $45.

The same procedure was repeated here. Duffy was robbed of about $45 and the men sped away.

About five minutes later the machine appeared at Washington street and Monastery road. George J. Sweeney, thirty-two years old, of No. 122 Union street, was standing there waiting for some friends.

Two of the men sprang out, ran towards him, and pressed revolvers against his side. As he thrust his hands aloft they searched him. They could find nothing save a little silver.

Infuriated by the disappointment, the men seized their guns by the muzzles and struck Sweeney over the head with the butts. They struck blow after blow until he fell unconscious, when they dragged him to a clump of bushes and left him. Then they drove away.

Sweeney regained consciousness after a while and dragged himself to the edge of the road. There he hailed a passing motorist and was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where he was treated for severe cuts and bruises.

Police in all city, divisions spent most of the early morning hours in securing the streets for the bandits. None of the victims had been able to obtain the number of the machine, however, and the search resulted in failure.

GIRL AND 2 MEN HELD IN THEFT

Martha Mayer, alias Martha Whitten, twenty-three years old, of No. 75 Adams street, Saugus; Charles Grossman, Allen street, West End, and Frederick Grant, No. 67 Westland avenue, Back Bay, were arraigned in Municipal Court today, charged with larceny of two suits of clothes from La Due Mann Company, Summer street.

Although charged only with the theft of two suits, Inspector Lawrence Welch of the Expressmen's Protective League and Inspector James Concannon of the Boston police, declared they hope to prove that the prisoners are members of a gang which has been at work in Boston for six weeks' filking clothing dealers, out of an average of twenty suits of clothing a day.

The prisoners pleaded not guilty. The girl was released on $3000 bail and the men on $2000 each.

According to the police, when the trio was arrested two trap bags, used, it is asserted, by thieves, were found in their possession.

The police said the method adopted by the accused was simple. They would enter a clothing store between eleve nand two o'clock when, many of of the clerks were at lunch, and while one of the party engaged whoever was in charge of the store in talk, the other two would stuff merchandize into the trap bags by means of the spring flap in the side.

BANKRUPTCY PETITION FILED BY N. Y. BROKER

New York, May 11.—Jesse M. Talley, a co-partner in the firm of J. M. Talley & Company, Wall street brokers, today filed in United States District Court a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, and asked that Walter Ow, the other co-partner, be served with subpenas to show why the firm should not be declared bankrupt. The petition lists liabilities at $78,644 and assets at $24,000.

McELANEY RENAMED TO BOARD OF APPEAL

Former Representative James A. McElaney, Jr., of No. 25 Greaton road, West Roxbury, was today named by Mayor Curley to the Board of Appeal. The name will go to the City Service Commission for confirmation. In the last Curley administration he was a member of the same board. J. J. Crotty was named a month ago for the position, but failed of confirmation.

COURT HOLDS 2 REVERE MEN IN BOND THEFTS

Harry Mannifff and Mack Klein, both of Revere, and believed by the police to be members of a nation-wide gang of bond thieves, were arraigned before Judge John Duff in Municipal Court today, charged with larceny and receiving bonds valued at $82,000.

The bonds were recovered at the time of the arrest of the two men. They are said to have been stolen from a bank in the Middle West.

The men pleaded not guilty and were released on $6,000 bail each for hearing May 23.

Mannifff during the war was a chief provost guard, stationed at Scollay Square, and last year was clerk for the Grand Jury of the Suffolk Superior Court. eH is a ball commissioner and a short time ago ran for office as Selectman in Revere.

Klein lives at No. 148 Shirley avenue, Revere, and conducts an automobile accessory and supply shop on Chambers street in the West End of Boston.

FORTUNE INVOLVED

As a result of the investigation made by Inspectors Dorsey and Augusta, and others, the police believe that hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of stolen bonds have been sent to Revere from all parts of the country for disposal.

Mannifff, they believe, acted as head of the local group, while they think that Klein acted as his agent and "runner," because of his acquaintance in banking circles, which would enable him to realize cash on securities.

The officials are inclined to doubt that the local members of the alleged gang were more than two in number. It is their belief that the men who stole the securities sent them to Klein and Mannifff, who converted them into cash and divided the proceeds with the robbers.

CLAIM THEY FOUND BONDS.

Klein and Mannifff when questioned by Chief Inspector John R. McGrory explained their possession of the bonds in the following manner:

Last June, said the prisoners, they were riding along a boulevard in Somerville in a machine when they noticed a bundle by the curbing. Stopping their car they picked up the bundle, opened it—and found the bonds, neatly wrapped up in paper, but with no names or addresses that might indicate the owners' identity.

No credence whatever is placed in the explanation by the police.

The men were arrested as the result of a clerk's quick-wittedness.

Klein, who has been in two Boston banks and in two Revere banks, went to a Boston bank yesterday afternoon and asked for a loan of $75,000. The clerk asked him what collateral he had to secure the loan, and Klein replied that he possessed $100,000 worth of bonds and other valuable securities.

CLERK NOTES NUMBERS.

On the clerk's request he produced a bundle of them from his pocket. They included various railroad bonds, bonds of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., bonds of the city of Chicago, California hotel stocks, and bonds issued by interurban railways in Chicago.

The clerk looked them over, suddenly he noticed that the numbers on the bonds corresponded with a list of numbers that had been received have been asked to be on the lookout for as stolen bonds. He asked Klein to wait a moment, stepped into an adjoining room, and called police headquarters.

The arrests followed.

WARRANTS FOR 4 IN ABDUCTION

Lawrence, May 11.—Warrants were issued today for seven or four young men in connection with the alleged abduction and attack on Marion Erlander, sixteen years old, and Lillian Johnson, nineteen yearsold, both of this city.

One of the men is said to be the owner of the automobile in which the girls were taken to a camp on Canoble Lake, N. H.

Three of the men have left the city, it is said. The names of the four have not been given out by the police.

CHARGE FORD IS KEEPING NEWBERRY CASE ALIVE

Washington, May 11.—Charges were made today in Republican quarters that Henry Ford is the "master mind behind the agitation to keep the Newberry case alive." The charge was based on a campaign novelty that has made its appearance in many sections of the country. This novelty is a taped contrivance, in the form of a little green leaf, on which is superimposed a lemon-shaped and lemon-colored berry.

Printed on the berry is a black dollar sign. It is labelled "The G. O. P. New-Berry." Republicans accused Henry Ford of financing the manufacture of the novelty and directing its distribution.

GETS ONE LOOK AT 'HOT DOG'; POLICE!

"Hot Dog" is no more in Boston!

This does not mean that the blue laws have been clamped down on all expressions of joy and encouragement. You can say it all you want to, but you can't buy it any more. No longer can Johnny hide the magazine of that name under his geography and render a verdict of "Unprepared" when asked to bound Missouri.

Police Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson has been called in to help the teachers in their efforts to spread learning throughout this city of culture and its suburbs. It started today when a girl student of the Charlestown High School was discovered in class with a copy of "Hot Dog" under her schoolbooks.

Principal George W. Evans of the school confiscated the publication, read some of it himself and sent for the police. He wrote Police Commissioner Wilson about the discovery and said that the magazine was very improper.

The police commissioner issued a general order to the police of all the divisions to visit the cigar and periodical stores of the city and order the proprietors to take their "Hot Dogs" from the windows and not to sell them. The Charlestown girl said she bought the magazine in a periodical shop in Charlestown.

CLOTHING WORKERS TO REFUSE FURTHER CUTS

Chicago, May 11.—Resolutions declaring they would accept no further wages reductions under threat of a nation-wide strike have been adopted by the delegates representing 150,000 members of the Amalgamated Cloth ing Workers of America.

The clothing workers have made one cut in wages, averaging about 15 per cent., which went into effect last year. This cut followed a strike in New York

ROXBURY MAN HELD AS DRUNKEN AUTOIST

J. H. Johnson of Ottawa street, Roxbury, was arrested at Deerfield street and Commonwealth avenue today on a charge of operating an automobile while drunk. Mounted Officer Francis Sullivan testified in Roxbury Court he had to pull Johnson out of the machine. The case was continued to June 13.

CLUB OFFICIAL FREED IN FLAG INSULT CASE

Steward Frank Frohn of the Schwaben Hall Club, Heath street, Roxbury, was discharged by Judge Merritt in Roxbury Court today after trial on a charge of disrespectful treatment of the American flag.

Clarence S. Charles of the American Association for Patriotic Instruction was the complainant.

Counsel for Frohn flayed Charles as a "professional 100 per cent. American," and said he did not represent the spirit of Americanism.

The Schwaben Hall Club was raided by prohibition agents April 29, and two flags reposing in an ash heap were seized. The attorney for Frohn today declared that the flags had not been in the ash heap more than twenty minutes, and were to have been burned. He said the flags were to be replaced by two new ones, and that they were taken down by an A. E. F. veteran.

GIRL TELLS OF REVELS AT COLLEGE

Lewiston, Me., May 11.—Startling charges against the conduct of male students at Bates College were made today to a Boston American reporter by Miss Julia McGillicuddy.

She is the Lewiston girl whose confession to police here that she had been in one of the dormitory rooms at Bates College with a student led to the dismissal of one student and the suspension of three others.

Miss McGillicuddy declared that she was just "one of the unfortunate girls who got caught," and stated that if the college authorities knew one half of what is going on nightly in the dormitory rooms of the male students there would be a "real house cleaning among the young men of the college."

"Scores of girls visit the rooms of the students at Bates College at night," said Miss McGillicuddy. "Many of these girls not only go up to the men's rooms for a visit but spend the entire night there. Nothing is said to them because they are clever enough to get away without being caught.

"I was one of the unfortunate girls who was caught and took all the noise they have made over this. What would be said if they ever got at the bottom of the mess?

"Let me tell you that the Bates men are a fast outfit. There are none faster. The girls do not invite themselves up to the rooms of the men. The men do all the inviting, no matter what they might say to the contrary."

COLLEGE IN FURORE.

The students involved were John L. Miller of Wollaston Mass., R. P. Hinds of Gardiner, Me., and George C. Dunn of Biddeford, Me., and Edward F. Dagino of Wakefield, Mass.

The entire college is in a furore over the affair, and while the college authorities will give out no official statement it is understood that a thorough investigation is being made. It has been learned that about fifteen students have been called on the carpet.

"It was on Palm Sunday that Agnes Jordan and I and another girl were walking by the college dormitory," Miss McGillicuddy declared. "Some of the boys invited us to come in.

"We asked them if it was all right, and they said it was. We went in. They organized a jazz orchestra and soon the music was playing and we danced for some time. It was a merry party while it lasted.

HAS "LEARNED LESSON."

"Then my mother received the letter telling her to keep me away from the college, and the cat was out of the bag. I told all I knew when I saw that it was best for me. That's all there is to it. I would never have gone up to Miller's room if he hadn't invited me and if he had not told me it was all right to do so. I shall never go to the college again as long as I live. I have learned my lesson. No more for me."

Hundreds of Young Women to Raise Funds to Assist Heroes in Flower Drive May 26-27

Hundreds of pretty girls will sell poppies in Boston on May 26 and 27 under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Association for the purpose of obtaining funds to assist former service men in filing claims for compensation, insurance and vocational training.

In addition to the sale of red silk poppies, which are duplicates of those that bloom on the graves of American soldiers in France, victory wreaths will be disposed of to swell the fund.

The silk poppies that are to be sold in Boston hotels, clubs and streets were made in France by the women of that country. This employment has materially helped the women of France.

The committee in charge of the drive for funds in Boston is headed by Mayor and Mrs. Curley. It includes one representative from every patriotic, military and woman's organization in the city. The honorary committee includes Governor and Mrs. Cox, Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Fuller, President F. G. Allen of the Senate, State Commissioner of Education Payson Smith, Mrs. Evelyn P. Coe and Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer.

GARAGE PERMITS COST IS RAISED

Those who build garages in the city in the future will find that the cost of a permit has been decidedly increased, according to announcement made by Mayor Curley today.

The old fee of $1 is wiped out and the following rates take its place:

Public garages, $100.

Business garages, $100.

Group of unit garages for more than two units, each $1.

Repair shops not connected with garages, $5.

Private garages with capacity of not more than two cars, $1.

With capacity for not more than three cars, $2.

For each car in excess of three, $1 additional.

YORK AND WIFE RECONCILED AT VANCOUVER

Word has been received from Vancouver, British Columbia, that a reconciliation has been effected between Mrs. Myra W. A. York and her husband, Henry A. York of No. 173 Broadway, Somerville, and that the two will leave Vancouver today for Boston.

Mrs. York was detained in the Canadian city a week ago, after she had been traced there from Somerville. She disappeared from her home on April 24, taking with her her savings of $4,000 and jewelry, worth about $2,000.

When it was finally found that she had gone to Vancouver, the Somerville police wired authorities in that city to hold her temporarily. The husband was notified, and he left to join her last week.

A Clergyman's Daughter

Can a minister's daughter succeed in the movies? This is one of the questions about the movies—and girls—that Rupert Hughes answers in "Souls for Sale," the opening chapters of which will be printed in Saturday's Boston American. The Rev. Dr. Sudden, Remember's father, regarded all moving-picture people as "limbs of Satan."

MOVIE WORLD NEWS AND GOSSIP

By FRIEDA DAVIS.

THE announcement made yesterday of the coming marriage of Rudolph Valentine and Winifred Hudnut, known professionally as Natacha Rambova, came as no surprise to members of the film circles, since the pair have been seen about Hollywood together constantly since they met on the working set of Mazimova's "Camille."

Casual visitors from Hollywood who have been bombarded by eastern flappers with questions concerning "what Valentine is really like, what he does and so on," have hinted that an engagement between the young star and the stage designer was in the offing.

Miss Hudnut is the daughter of Richard Hudnut, the "perfume king," who is a Californian. They have a Summer home on Lake Sunapee, New Hampshire.

SPRING IN PARIS.

"SPRING in Paris! It's wonderful! Come on over!" little Anita Loos writes to Norma Talmadge almost daily. Miss Loos has been in the French capital for several weeks with her husband, John Emerson, and they have decided to stay so long that they have taken an attractive house on one of the prominent boulevards. Miss Loos has stopped writing original screen stories and continuities long enough to go in for fiction. She has already written several short stories, one of which was published in last month's Smart Set and shows distinct talent in that line.

ELEANOR PAINTER

Norma Talmadge

Meanwhile, Norma Talmadge has finished work on "The Duchess de Langeais," which has been retitled, "The Eternal Flame," and is working on the Edgar Selwyn play, "The Mirage," in which Florence Reed appeared here this past Winter. Following that, she will go abroad, stay with Miss Loos for some time and will then probably push on southward to Algiers, to take exteriors for "The Garden of Allah."

BRADY BABY CHRISTENED.

ALICE BRADY'S young son has been officially christened in New York. He is to be known as Donald William Crane in the future and not as the Brady baby.

His famous mother is at present appearing in vaudeville about New York in a tabloid version of "Drifting," the piece in which she was seen on Broadway last season. It is known as "Cassie Cook of the Yellow Sea," its original title. She will leave for Hollywood within a few weeks to start on her three-year contract with Paramount.

Six hours before the close, Billie Burke took the lead from Marion Davies and went to the top of the list with 35,202 votes to her credit. Miss Davies held second place with 34,793 votes. From then on hundred dollar bills were waved in the air promiscuously with the cries, "A thousand votes for Miss Davies!" "A thousand for Miss Burke!" and so on. The voting ended at midnight on Tuesday and the king and queen were crowned on Wednesday.

Says American Girl Has Small Chance to Become Diva

By FRED J. McISAAC

Every now and then you read that Eleanor Painter has joined the Chicago Opera, or the Metropolitan Opera. Don't you believe it. On the authority of Miss Painter herself there is nothing doing in that line.

"An American girl has as much chance in grand opera as it is run in this country as a snowball in the place it isn't polite to mention," declares Miss Painter, the star of "The Last Waltz."

AMERICANS BEGAN ABROAD.

"With a very few exceptions the only Americans who have succeeded in grand opera in this country did so by singing in Europe and staying over there until the Metropolitan and Chicago companies sent for them. Look at Farrar, Nordica, Eames, Garden, and the rest. Every one of them made their reputations in Europe."

"But there are a lot of American girls singing in grand opera in this country."

"Sure," said Miss Painter. "When do they sing and what?"

"I have been invited twice to join the Metropolitan, but do you suppose I want to hang around a whole season waiting for some of the foreigners to get sick so I could get a chance? And even if I did get some good roles they would faint if I asked them to pay me what I earn in light opera.

SALARIES ARE POOR.

"The truth is that there are no good salaries in grand opera except to a very few, and almost all of these are foreign stars. There are so many American girls fighting for the glory of belonging to the Metropolitan that most of them are willing to work for little or nothing. And the management allows them to do it.

"I intend to sing again in grand opera, but I am going to do it in Europe. I'm sailing in a few weeks now and I expect to sing in opera this summer in several places. In the meantime I have a role in "The Last Waltz" which requires more dramatic singing than most grand operas."

REFUSES OFFER TO SING IN GRAND OPERA

By FRED J. McISAAC

Every now and then you read that Eleanor Painter has joined the Chicago Opera, or the Metropolitan Opera. Don't you believe it. On the authority of Miss Painter herself there is nothing doing in that line.

"An American girl has as much chance in grand opera as it is run in this country as a snowball in the place it isn't polite to mention," declares Miss Painter, the star of "The Last Waltz."

PROBE OF ADJUTANT GENERAL'S DEPT. DIES

The petition for an investigation of the department of the adjutant-general was killed when the legislative committee that was handling it reported leave to withdraw. Favorable reports were made by other committees on the bill for a special commission to investigate problems relating to municipal expenditures and taxation, and a measure ordering a joint convention to consider the proposal for biennial legislative sessions.

DIPHTHERIA PREVENTION CLINICS FOR BOSTON SOON

Clinics for the demonstration of the application of the Schick method of diphtheria prevention will shortly be established in various parts of Boston under the auspices of the City Health Department, according to a decision made at the initial meeting of Mayor Curley's newly-appointed Medical Advisory Board, which is to meet with Health Commissioner Mahoney. Dr. Mahoney requested the co-operation of all physicians in the city with his department in the prevention of disease.

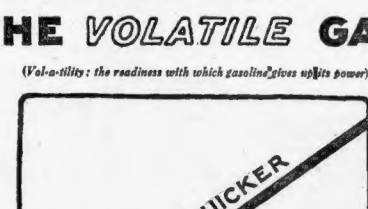
TEXACO GASOLINE

THE VOLATILE GAS

(Vol-a-tility: the readiness with which gasoline gives up its power)



What happens in your motor cylinder at the instant of the spark!—that's what determines how much power goes to the rear wheels and how quickly it goes there.

Texaco Gasoline, the volatile gas, will make a wonderful difference in the "pick-up" of your motor. It will take you out of traffic pinches and pull you out of emergencies that you have always had to give way to before.

Texaco Motor Oils are heavy-body lubricants and are distinguished by their clear, pale color. Light, medium, heavy and extra-heavy—they fit all cars and all conditions. You will find them wherever you see the Texaco red star.

R.I. INJUNCTION FIGHT OPENED IN PROVIDENCE

Providence, May 11.—The respondents in the injunction proceedings brought by the Jenckes Spinning Company of Pawtucket, against officers and members of the United Textile Workers of America opened their defence in the Superior Court, before Justice Chester W. Barrows today.

Edward M. Sullivan, of counsel for the strikers, called as his first witness High Sheriff Jonathan Andrews of Providence County, who was followed on the stand by Frederick L. Jenckes, treasurer of the plaintiff corporation.

In supporting their petition for injunction against any form of picketing, the Jenckes Spinning Company rested with the presentation of its affidavits, to which Mr. Sullivan entered objections. Both Sheriff Andrews and Mr. Jenckes were summoned for cross-examination.

Eighteen former employes of the plaintiff corporation who are now members of the United Textile Workers of America were also on hand ready to testify.

Polish Consulate Asks for Report on Shooting

Providence, May 11.—E. J. Reilly, secretary of the Polish Consulate in New York city, today made formal request upon Governor Emery J. San. Sougi for a copy of the official report of the investigation conducted by Major Samuel A. Hall into the shooting of Pawl and Jacob Pankiewicz by National Guardsmen on strike duty in the Pawtuxet Valley on April 17.

The two men were in their home in Crompton when the soldiers opened fire. Several bullets pierced the front door of the Pankiewicz home, and wounded the two brothers, who were sent to the Rhode Island Hospital in this city in a serious condition.

Mr. Reilly has already made a personal investigation into the shooting, the result of which has been submitted to the U. S. Department of State by the Polish Legation in Washington.

The day following the shooting the governor ordered Major Hall to investigate and make a formal report to the adjutant general. This report has been communicated to the Governor by General Charles W. Abbott, but its tenor has not been made public.

U. S. Consul Dead

London, May 11.—William Wesley Masterson, American consul at Plymouth, died after an operation for appendicitis. He was a native of Carrollton, Ky.

HERE'S SAD TALE OF HARD-LUCK CHAMPION

Walter Zaki is a Russian and his middle name is Woe.

His told the Quincy police the story of his troubles today and they, unanimously voted him the hard luck champion of the East.

Ten years ago Walter and his wife came to this country, leaving their two children in care of his parents.

A year ago his mother died. Shortly after his father died. So, having saved up $2,000, he took $1,000 of it and started back for Russia to claim his offspring and bring them to this country.

But the Bolsheviks barred him at Odessa. He never even got ashore. And when he got back to Quincy Point he found that his wife's affections had cooled and a star boarder was viewed with much favor in his household.

Walter started something with the star boarder, and said star, Mike Slavick, promptly had him summoned to court on a charge of assault.

Zaki's $1,000 is gone. The $1,000 he left with his wife he cannot get. He is of the opinion that life in America is absolutely on the blinsky.

SONS OPEN CONTEST OVER CROKER'S WILL

Dublin, May 11. (By the Associated Press)—Solicitors acting in behalf of Richard Croker's two sons served notice upon Mrs. Croker's solicitors today that they had been instructed to enter a caveat in an Irish court against the will of Mr. Croker when it was lodged for probate. This, it was stated, would make a trial necessary to prove the will and the competency of the testator.

LOWELL MAN ESCAPES HAIL OF BANDIT SHOTS

Haverhill, May 11.—An attempted holdup was today reported to the police here by J. F. Crowley of Lowell, an automobile salesman. Crowley said he escaped four bandits under a hail of bullets on the road between Exeter, N. H., and Amesbury by speeding up the truck he was driving. Three bullets were imbedded in the machine.

Other holdups have been reported in the same section.

SHEPARD STORES TO BROADCAST RADIO

Boston will have a new radio broadcasting station around the first of June. John Shepard of the Shepard Stores announced today that an 88,000 100-watt Western Electric transmitter had been purchased and would be completely installed by that time. It is planned to broadcast concerts every other evening from 7:30 to 9:30, the concerts being similar to those now broadcasted by the Newark station. The station is expected to have a range of fifty miles under poor conditions, and under good conditions it is expected that Chicago can "listen in."

$218,000,000 TRANSIT PLAN FOR NEW YORK

New York, May 11.—The State Transit Commission today made public plans for seven new rapid transit routes, extending in all parts of the greater city, which would add 32½ miles to the system at a total cost of $218,000,000. It is proposed to obtain funds by city bond issues.

Her Case Unusual

Remember Stedden's case was different from that of most girls who find themselves in desperate difficulties or that the young man who could and should have saved her had been killed recently in an automobile accident. In such a situation what was there for the girl to do? Read what she did, as Rupert Hughes tells the enthralling story in "Souls for Sale," beginning in Saturday's Boston American.

LIBERIA LOAN FIGHT SHIFTS TO SENATE

Washington, May 11.—Passage by the House of the resolution authorizing a loan of $5,000,000 to Liberia had shifted the issue to the Senate today. Following the vote in the House last night, which was 118 to 123, Chairman Fordney of the House Ways and Means Committee predicted the resolution would pass the Senate speedily.

Debate on the resolution furnished the spectacle of Republican leaders insisting that an agreement of the Wilson administration should be carried out, with Democratic leaders asserting the loan to Liberia was authorized in 1918 in "defiance of law."

HARDING'S HORSE IS ENTERED IN SHOW

CHARGE SUGAR CONTAINED GLASS

Charging that there was glass "or some other sharp, brittle foreign substance" in sugar purchased from the branch store of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company at Linden square, Malden, four persons filed suits for damages today in East Cambridge Court. The total amount asked for is $48,000.

Mrs. Alma R. Wright, of Everett, asks $25,000. She says she purchased five pounds of sugar from the branch store of the company last January and that she was made horribly ill by the 'glass or other substance.'

Her husband, Wallace C. Wright, asks $10,000 for loss of his wife's services and medical expenses.

Mrs. Hope Welch, of Malden sues for $10,000 on similar grounds, and her husband asks $3,000 for the loss of her services and medical expenses.

McLEAN CAN KEEP ALL OF HORSE'S WINNINGS

Washington, May 12.—A jury has decided that Edward B. McLean, millionaire publisher, need "not split" the winnings of The Porter, one of the best stake horses in his string, with Samuel Ross, Washington merchant and turfman. Ross sold The Porter to McLean for $15,000 and, he alleged, a promise of one-third of the colt's future winnings on the track. These have amounted to $65,000, but McLean denied the existence of the agreement.

Man Enroute to Hub Will Have Shin Bone Grafted to Arm

New York, May 11.—Gerald MacKenzie, in charge of the accounting department of the United Fruit Company at Almargnit, Panama, arrived here on the United Fruit liner Limon from Port Limon, en route to Boston, where he will be operated upon to graft a bit of bone from his shin to his arm.

MacKenzie smashed his arm six months ago in a motor accident and it never healed properly. Specialists advised him to see bone specialists in Boston. They advised the operation.

AIR FULL OF LEAD, ONE MAN SHOT

Georgs Fife of No. 873 Harrison avenue is in the City Hospital with a bullet in a leg, while in jail is Howard J. Carter, a sailor of the U. S. S. Lamson.

Carter was arrested after he had indulged in wild gun play, the police charge.

According to most of the population around No. 873 Harrison avenue, Carter had no sooner landed at that address, a boarding house, when the popping of pistol shots sent everybody hunting cyclone cellars.

Police, responding to the reports of "murder," found they had to use guns and force to quiet the deep sea man.

FOIL BANDITS' ATTEMPT TO STEAL LIQUOR

Pittsfield, MBay 11.—Three masked bandits today tried unsuccessfully to break into the concrete vault guarded by two steel doors with combination locks at the Stockbridge villa of Judge Charles W. Mayer, wealthy steamship magnate of New York, who has $100,000 worth of liquor stored there.

Shots were exchanged with Caretaker William Harvey. Telephone wires were cut and a large truck with a New Jersey number was waiting near the entrance to the estate to carry the liquor away.

The bandits had smashed the outer steel door when Harvey, his wife and two children surprised them. As they ran from the house Harvey emptied his revolver upon them and he thinks one was hit, as a blood-stained revolver was found today on the lawn.

Harvey and his wife heard the truck leave the estate, go through the village west bound over West Stockbridge Mountain into New York State.

Judge Mayer, who is head of the Prance and Canada Steamship Company, had a carload of whiskey come by express to Stockbridge just before the Eighteenth Amendment was passed and the vault was built especially for it.

Police think persons familiar with the place were implicated. The estate is know nas Eden Hill and is half a mile from Stockbridge Village.

MEDBURY

Says the More a Bathing Beach Censor Sees of a Girl the Less You're Going to See of Her

Now that the hot weather is almost here, the beach censors will be on the job at the different resorts to see that nobody enjoys themselves.

They claim that everybody must wear a two-piece bathing suit. Last year several bathers thought they could beat this law by wearing one piece at a time.

These censors think that just because they have a wide forehead that they're broadminded.

A lot of people think these censors have no backbone, but you wouldn't say this if you ever saw one of them in a bathing suit.

They have to get into a swimming costume before you can see their good points.

Last season the swimmers presented each censor with a square bathing cap. One that fitted tight over the corners.

One guy's cap was too round, but it was all right as soon as he had it blocked.

Every beach has its lifesavers. Last year one of them lost his job. He made a mistake and saved a censor from drowning.

Some women just go to the beaches to parade in their beautiful costumes. We've had dry cleaning and now we've got dry bathing.

A lot of dames carry umbrellas in case it rains they don't want to get their swimming suits wet.

A beach poet has rewritten that well known verse:

"Mother may I go out to swim?"
"Yes, my darling daughter.
But please don't spoil your bathing suit
By going near the water."

The average girl likes beach sports and you usually see her on the arm of one.

She loves animals so he buys her a hot dog from one of his father's frankfurter kennels.

She's down there to spend the Summer and he doesn't spend much more than that himself.

Resort owners could just as well build the beaches inland and ninety per cent. of the bathers would never miss the water.

NEWSPRNT OWNERS AND WORKERS AGREE

New York, May 11.—At a conference here today between the newsprint mill owners and the mill workers upon a new wage scale in the paper making industry, a compromise agreement was signed by a majority of the conferees.

URGE REPAIRS ON ROXBURY STREETS

A petition signed by over 5,000 persons was presented to Mayor Curley today urging that Blue Hill avenue, Warren street and Humboldt avenue, Roxbury, be reconditioned.

The Mayor told the delegation that submitted the list of names that he had already started arrangements to spend over a million dollars on four great radial highways, which would take in some of the streets petitioned for, and that the others were in the process of reconstruction.

Humboldt avenue will be entirely smooth surfaced, with asphalt or bitulithic pavement. This will cost $50,000. One side of Blue Hill avenue, from Brewer street to the Milton line, will cost $100,000. Warren street will be granite paved.

The four radial highways the Mayor pointed out will be: Tremont street, Columbia avenue to the Milton; Commonwealth avenue to the Newton line; Haymarket Square to the Chelsea street bridge and from Harvard bridge, Massachusetts to Dorchester avenue to the Milton line over the new Neponset Bridge.

HE JUST COULDN'T HELP RINGING FIRE ALARMS

He liked to hear the bells ring, did Francis Couture, twenty-one years old, of No. 79 Rice street, North Cambridge. So he'd pull in a fire alarm.

Then he'd run.

Police caught him leaving a box at Massachusetts avenue and Rice street today.

"Couldn't help it," he told an alienist at the station house. It's just like a fever, doc.' I'd feel it coming on, and it wouldn't stop till I pulled in an alarm and the gorgeous cans tooting down the street."

He was sent to the Psychopathic Hospital for observation.

NO 'COAL PLOTS' IN HUB, GRAND JURY SAYS

The Suffolk County Grand Jury today concluded its investigation of the coal situation. It accomplished nothing and suggested nothing.

It reported through District Attorney Councillor Francis C. O'Brien, that City Councillor Francis J. W. Ford gave no pertinent testimony, beyond stating what everybody knows, that coal prices are pretty uniform in Boston.

According to the report, any conspiracy to fix coal prices, if such a conspiracy exists, has its inspiration in Pennsylvania, among the coal mine operators, who are outside the jurisdiction of a Suffolk County Grand Jury.

Notwithstanding the report of the grand jury, District Attorney O'Brien today declared he would welcome any information bearing on the coal situation and would prosecute if the evidence warranted.

The statement of the grand jury follows:

"By a vote of the grand jury you are requested to make the following facts public:

"On May 8, 1922, the grand jury, after conferring with you, called before them upon summons City Councillor Francis J. W. Ford to inquire of him what evidence he had in his possession of a conspiracy in Boston to fix prices of anthracite coal.

"Mr. Ford produced no evidence of a criminal conspiracy. He gave the Grand Jury no information other than the fact already of common knowledge that the price of anthracite coal per ton to the consumer is practically uniform throughout the city.

"Besides Mr. Ford, the Grand Jury heard a number of other witnesses, including officials of several retail coal companies and Eugene C. Hultman of the State Commission on the Necessaries of Life.

"So far as the inquiry has proceeded it appears that the cost of coal at the mines in Pennsylvania is approximately $5.10 a ton; that the cost of transportation averages $4.62 a ton, making a total of $12.72 per long ton, delivered to Boston retailers. On the evidence which the Grand Jury have in their possession at the present time they are forced to believe that if a conspiracy exists for the purpose of fixing prices on anthracite coal in this locality it exists among the coal operators who are outside the jurisdiction of a Suffolk County Grand Jury."

Earl French Believes in Playing Role of the Silent

New York, May 11. — Field Marshal John Denton Pinkstone French, O.M., K.P., K.C., M.G., G.C.B., G.C.V.O., D.C.L., LL.D., Cambridge; Earl of Ypres and of Highlake; Lord Lieutenant of Ireland 1918-21, is the most modest foreign visitor that the Western world has entertained. Earl French commanded the "First Hundred Thousand" that Britain flung against the Germans and has done many other notable things.

When he arrived he said the weather was pleasant. Then a long silence, broken today, on the eve of his Pilgrims' dinner speech, by these words:

"I too, am in a sense a pilgrim; and as such I shall speak at the dinner of fellow-Pilgrims, stressing the great need at the present time of sympathy, understanding and fairness in our dealings with each other as individuals and nations."

'STOLE MONEY,' WOMAN CRIES AT BROKERS

"I've stood enough from all these men who stole all my money,"

Mrs. Abbie F. Flagg of No. 17 Park Vale street, Brookline, testifying today against Wilfred Mulvany and other ex-stock brokers, on trial before Judge Keating, charged with larceny and conspiracy to commit larceny, lost control of her temper under cross-examination today and burst into this bitter little speech.

It was some time before her counsel could quiet her. Mrs. Flagg testified she gave $25,000 in securities to Eldron A. Mitchell, one of the defendants, and a former salesman for Mulvany & Company.

Mitchell was to invest the money in State Theatres stock, but he never did, and she never got her money back, she testified. Mitchell is a British war veteran and won the Victoria Cross.

How You Can Make Hairs Quickly Disappear

(Helps to Beauty)

Even a stubborn growth of hair will quickly vanish from the face, neck or arms after a single treatment with delatone. To remove hair from arms, neck, or face make a stiff paste with a little powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after about two minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be left free from hair or blemish. To avoid disappointment, be quite certain you get real delatone and mix fresh.—Advertisement.

SCHOOL BOYS SEE TRACTORS WORK

A special demonstration in practical use of tractors in industrial activity was given the students of the Manual Training divisions of the Boston and Cambridge High Schools at the National Industrial Tractor Show in Cambridge.

A special program was arranged by the engineers of the exhibit, which included the tearing up of unimproved property, converting it into shape for a road, the sawing of logs into planks, the operation of ore cars on railroad tracks and the operation of derricks, as well as demonstrations of the agricultural uses of tractors.

More than 500 students attended the demonstration, which was held to acquaint them with some of the practical problems that will confront them when their schooling is completed. The boys watched the monster saws whirl through 4-inch logs and climbed aboard the ore cars for a ride around a circular track which was built within the building.

The school boys were conducted by Joseph R. Lunt of the General Science division of the English High School.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON BOSTON SOCIETY

North Shore Colony Opening Homes for Season

By BETTY ALDEN.

EACH day finds several families arriving at the North Shore for the season, and I expect that by the end of this month the Summer colony there will be quite complete. As usual, of course, numerous members of the Summering contingent there will be missed until July or August, for the call to Europe is always answered by a good-sized coterie.

Among the recent arrivals at the Shore are Mr. and Mrs. James Cabot (Catherine Rush), who have opened "The Oaks," the Beverly Farms home of Mr. Cabot's parents, the Godfrey L. Cabots. The latter have spent the Winter and Spring traveling around the world, and I understand that they plan to return home about the middle of next month.

During their absence abroad, the Cabot residence on Highland street, Cambridge, has been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. James Cabot. The one-time Catherine Rush, by the way, has taken active part in the hundred and one festivities which made the past season such a gay one for Boston's smart set. In "Now and Then," the Vincent show given two weeks ago, Mrs. Cabot took the part of Mrs. Cooper, the rather exasperating old lady who managed to spoil everything for the young lovers in the play.

Others arriving recently at the Shore are Mrs. John Caswell and her family, who are now at "Round Plain Farm," the Caswell place at Pride's Crossing. Mrs. Caswell and her daughter, the very attractive Elizabeth Caswell, have been spending the past season at the Hotel Somerset, while young John Caswell, a Harvard '20 man, who spent the Winter in Texas, had returned recently and is now with his mother and sister.

I understand that Harold Vanderbilt, the well-known Gotham sportsman, will again occupy the Caswell estate for a portion of the hot season as he has done for the past two years. Mr. Vanderbilt, who belongs to practically all the exclusive clubs along the Shore, is expected some time in August.

Apropos of New Yorkers coming to the Shore, the Payne Whitneys and their family are to be for part of the season at the Richard D. Sears residence at Pride's. The past Winter was quite an important one for the Payne Whitneys, for it was the "coming out" year for their young daughter, Joan Whitney. Needless to say, Joan stood out as one of the most important "debs" of the 1921-22 crop, and at practically all of the entertainments given in her honor, there were "bushels" of Vanderbilts on hand to grace the occasions with their all-important presences.

MISS LYDIA DUNLOP
Another society-manikin for the fashion fete being given Friday afternoon at the Tremont Theatre for the Actors' Fund Benefit is Miss Lydia Dunlop.

UNDER the leadership of Mrs. Barrett Wendell, a host of festive events are being planning for the officers and crew of H. M. S. Constance which docked at the Charlestown Navy Yard on Sunday morning.

The festivities, which resulted through the request of Lieutenant Commander Hamilton of the Charlestown Navy Yard, began last evening, when a dinner and dance were given at the Ingram Club at the Navy Yard, with the Army and Navy Club providing the hostesses and dancing partners.

Tonight the men are being entertained by a minstrel show, and tomorrow they will be the guests of the city at a baseball game at Fenway Park. In the evening, dinner will be served at the Army and Navy Club, the day's events winding up with a dance, also at the club.

For the remaining days, sight-seeing tours and still more dinners and dances are to furnish the source of entertainment. I should say, off hand, that Mrs. Wendell will find this week a rather busy one, to say the least.

It was H. M. S. Constance, by the way, which brought to Boston Lieutenant Commander Rochfort Y. Loveband, the young naval officer who will claim for his bride next Tuesday Miss Mary Sigourney, daughter of Mrs. Henry Sigourney of Beacon street and Nahant. The wedding is to take place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the Sigourney home on the North Shore.

Random Notes of Society Folk in Town and Country

MR. AND MRS. PAUL M. HAMLEN and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Gannett of Boston have concluded their sojourn at Hot Springs and are on their way North. Of the Boston contingent staying on at this popular Southern resort are the Misses Elisabeth Thorndike and Eleanor Jones, who spend much of their time riding along the splendid trails there.

Messrs. Charles H. Taylor and Philip Spalding are among the Bostonians registered at the Ritz-Carlton, New York. Other Bostonians in New York are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fay, Mrs. Arthur Lithgow Devens, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Sayles and their children, R. W. Sayles, Jr., and Miss Deborah Sayles, who are all stopping at the Hotel Chatham.

Miss Constance Peabody of the Beverly Farms colony on the North Shore recently had as her luncheon guests at the RitzCarlton the Misses Ray Dierks and Florence Crozer of Philadelphia. Miss Peabody's mother, Mrs. Lincoln Peabody, was married this Winter to A. Kimball Tod of Beverly and New York.

Mrs. John Nicholas Brown, who recently closed her Boston home at No. 181 Commonwealth avenue, will sail in July with her son, young John Nicholas Brown, for a trip around the world. They plan to be gone for a year or more Mrs. Brown is now at her Newport estate while her son is completing his course of Harvard, from which he graduates in June.

R. McAllister Lloyd, Jr., of New York, who last October married Miss Isabel Goodwin of Boston, will be one of the ushers at the wedding of Miss Beatrice Sackett and Alfred Purdy Hodgman, the ceremony to take place next Thursday afternoon in the Old Presbyterian Church, New York. The ceremonial promises to be one of the smartest nuptial event taking place in Gotham during the Spring season.

Mrs. Thomas B. Gannett has been down to the North Shore preparatory to opening her home, "Waldyn," at Smith's Point, Manchester. She will not be there for the season until June.

A. M. FLETCHER, ONCE VERMONT GOVERNOR, DIES

Rutland, Vt., May 11.—Former Governor Allen Miller Fletcher of Cavendish, who was Governor of this State from 1912 to 1915, one of the wealthies' men in Vermont, was found dead today in a room in the Hotel Berwick here. Death was due to cerebral hemorrhage.

He was sixty-nine years old and was born in Indianapolis, where he amassed a fortune in real estate holdings.

Last night in company with former Lieutenant-Governor Frank E. Howe of Bennington and Rev. J. C. Smart of Burlington he acted as one of the judges in the prize-speaking contest held at Middlebury College.

He made a speech at 9:30 p. m. there and then came to Rutland with Mr. Howe to the hotel.

Before retiring he arranged to meet Mr. Howe for breakfast at 8 a. m. When he failed to appear, a bellboy was sent to his room, who reported that he was unable to awaken him. A doctor who was called stated that the former Governor had been dead some hours.

Mr. Fletcher's father and grandfather came from Ludlow.

He served several terms in the Vermont Houses of Representatives and was in the Senate in 1906.

3,000 DRINKERS IN YEAR IN CITY HOSPITAL

Judges Agree to Sentence Second Offenders to 30 Days at State Farm

Three thousand "hootch" drinkers were "pumped out" at the City Hospital during the last year. Thirty-three per cent. of these were second offenders, Mayor Curley announced today.

The number of cases are increasing so rapidly that the hospital trustees appealed to the Mayor for relief from the congestion. There are 930 patients there at present, with beds for only 720. They have placed temporary cots in the corridors.

A conference was held with municipal court judges, who agreed to sentence second offenders to the State Farm at Bridgewater for a term of thirty days.

Mayor Curley was in favor of sending them to the pesthouse or the smallpox hospital. This, however, was rejected as being too costly and too far away from the hospital centre.

Mayor Curley says that the City Hospital will have to be made larger. In the obstetrical department there are only eighteen beds, and 600 babies born there last year.

There are two buildings in the course of construction to take care of outpatients. They will be ready November 1.

Hole in Stocking, and Ball Game Has to Stop

Los Angeles, May 11.—Girl baseball teams of the University of Southern California and Occidental College met on the former's diamond in a seven-inning game which ended with a score of 66 to 16 in favor of U. S. C. At the end of the fifth inning the score was 30 to 7. Home runs were too numerous to tabulate.

The contest would have gone the regulation nine innings had one of the players not torn a hole in her stocking. She refused to play any more until repairs had been made. This shortened the contest to seven innings.

"At Last, the Truth!"

That is what you will say when you have finished "Souls for Sale," the great novel of Movieland, which begins on Saturday in the Boston American. "At last the truth!" For this new story by Rupert Hughes will erase from memory all previous fiction dealing with the film world. Writers, no less than the whole world of readers, will see Movieland and its people in a new light. If some idols are shattered, others will be raised. If disillusionment awaits the reader he will find in this story of a land of enchantment an arresting new interest to replace his present misconceptions.

COLE ASKS NEW $100,000 ROAD TO REVERE

"Within five years every $300 shack in Revere will become a $3,000 house," Chairman John N. Cole of the State Department of Public Works said today in advocating a state expenditure of $100,000 to build a boulevard in Revere from the Malden line to Broadway.

Cole said the value of the property along the proposed route would be increased tenfold.

Cole also declared that heavy auto trucks have caused much irreparable damage to highways that many towns in the State cannot afford to rebuild them.

He said a law should be passed to enable his department to limit the weight of truckloads in certain seasons of the year.

Russia and Vatican Agree on Freedom of Worship

By International News Service.

London, May 11.—A Central News dispatch from Rome today quoted the newspaper Tribuna as saying that Pope Pius XI. and George Tchitcherin, head of the Russian delegation to the Genoa conference, had signed an agreement providing for freedom of worship in Russia and protection of missions, but that the Pope had rejected the clause dealing with restitution of ecclesiastical property.

GERMANY MUST BUILD U. S. BIG ZEPPELIN

Versailles, May 11 (By the Associated Press).—Germany will manufacture a Zeppelin of 70,000 meters capacity to replace the one allotted to the United States by the Versailles Treaty, but destroyed in Germany, under the award of the Ambassadors' Council which allows American 9,000,000 gold marks in reparation.

The Ambassadors' award was authorized by the Inter-Allied War Council operating under the chairmanship of Marshal Foch.

The American Government had asked that Germany be ordered to build for it a 100,000 cubic meter Zeppelin, which would have been the largest ever constructed.

The German Government will, it is believed, be able to deliver the airship within nine months.

One of the conditions is that a German crew shall take the Zeppelin to the United States, although several American officers will probably accompany the crew in the flight across the Atlantic.

FOR AND 'AGIN' DAYLIGHT SAVING

Have you an opinion on daylight-saving? If you haven't, you are the sole exception among 110,000,000 residents of the United States. If you have, get it on record by sending it to the Daylight-Saving Editor, Boston American, Boston.

Read below what several Boston American readers think. The subject has a general appeal. Most people are enthusiastically for or bitterly 'agin' it. Let's hear from you.

Editor Boston American:

Would it be asking too much of you to publish a picture of the "nut" that first introduced the daylight saving measure and wants it continued? There are a good many of us I am sure, who would like to study his "map" when we meet him.

I have noticed from time to time what the people who favor the measure adopted permanently are those who do not get up very early in the morning such as wealthy club members, coming such as wealthy club members coming home from lounge lizards, jazz hoppers from cabarets, etc.

WORKERS ARE IGNORED.

Those people can sleep late in the morning and it is only natural that they want daylight in the evening when they are through work and to play golf or go to a ball game. It is to satisfy this class that those baseball magnates of the people's game, the owners of the baseball parks in the Back Bay district put this across. Those gentlemen never gave a thought to the wishes or welfare of the rank and file of the workers at the park and for the reason that they have no organized protest.

Working men have to be at their work where or business now at 6 o'clock mid-time and many of them have to be on the streets at 5 o'clock and to be jammed about on the street cars for half an hour before getting to work. Their wives have to be up at 4 or 4:30 and are very nervous and irritable preparing a meal that very few men can eat at that hour in the morning.

There is no power behind my protest so that it does not in any manner but I would like to see the measure go to a popular vote and then if it wins I will take my medicine with out a whimper.

WILLIAM J. IVERS.

No 43 Mayve ad street Roxbury.

CLERK IS THANKFUL.

Editor, Boston American:

My chief regret is that daylight saving does not start sooner and end later. I would prefer the period to be from April first to October thirty-first, for I consider it one of the greatest boons there is to the worker.

All these extra hours of daylight is an unmixed blessing to workers in stores and offices and are as good as an extra day a week for getting out in the blessed daylight.

I am a store clerk and I can write on behalf of hundreds I have heard express their views as thankful for the wonderful benefit they gain from the extra hour.

D. C. F., Roxbury.

Editor Boston American:

I have noticed about your question "Are You For or Against Daylight Saving?" I say this, and I know mothers all through Massachusetts are terribly wrong to the light saving law. The children I teacher know and feel that an hour's time does not make a difference.

Editor, PENIACK Fall River.

JEAN D'ARC WAS A FLAPPER, SAYS ONE

Pittsburgh, May 11.—"Official records show that no flapper with bobbed hair ever was canonized," declared Rev. Dr. Thomas F. Coakley to the National Council of Catholic Women. "Father Coakley evidently has gone through the list of Saints rather hurriedly," said one who declared herself a heaven bound flapper. "Joan D'Arc not only had her hair bobbed, but she also wore knickers."

"TIZ" FOR ACHING, SORE, TIRED FEET

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy. Also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "TIZ." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

A few cents buys a box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel.

Mrs. Bird May Be Asked to Run for Senate

Mrs Charles Sumner Bird of East Walpole is being considered as a possible candidate for United States Senator of Massachusetts, according to the Rev. J. F. Brant local secretary of the International Reform Bureau of Washington.

Should Mrs. Bird's candidacy become a fact, she would be the first Massachusetts woman to attempt to hold a national office of this class. At present Miss Alice Robertson of Oklahoma is the only woman in Congress. She is a member of the House of Representatives. Miss Jeannette Rankin held, for one term, the same office. There has not yet been a woman in the Senate.

FRENCH GIRL IS HELD WITH SUITOR

Washington, May 11.—Alleged promises of marriage which brought Victorine Leclert, twenty-two years old, to this country from Paris last December have ended in her arrest here with Emile Krebs forty years old, who is held charged with violation of the Mann Act.

The young woman told the police Krebs promised to marry her after an acquaintance in Paris and did not reveal that he had a wife there until she had joined him in this country. He then told her, she said, they would be married as soon as he could get a divorce.

Immigration inspectors said the French girl probably would be deported.

Health Board Asks Women to Report Bad Potatoes

Housewives, watch your "spuds."

Find any potatoes with "hollow hearts" and notify the Board of Health.

Health Commissioner Francis X Mahoney issued a warning today to housewives to look out for "hollow hearted" potatoes. They are invading the market with good potatoes.

They look sound and nice, but only part of them can be eaten when cooked.

WOMAN AUTOIST DIDN'T MISS ANYBODY

Mrs. Margaret Hollow of Church street, Milton, operating an automobile in front of 10 Bulfinch street, Boston, at 10:30 o'clock last night, Dorchester today drove on the sidewalk in an attempt to avoid hitting Stanley Chase, twelve years old of No. 14 Lamartine street, Dorchester.

She drove into a lamp carrying two children, Lucien Pendlton, aged eight years, and Stanley Chase, aged twelve years, of No. 24 Arlington street, Dorchester. The car was then driven into a building where it struck a pedestrian. Three were treated by a doctor and a window in the store of Lucien Simon, No. 10a Bulfinch street, was broken. Mrs. Hodges was arrested and held in $1000 bail for the grand jury.

Attempt Is Made to Prove Columbus Was Born in Spain

Madrid, May 11 (By the Associated Press).—An attempt is being made to prove that Christopher Columbus was born in Spain.

The subject came up for discussion in the Spanish Congress, when Deputy Iglesias stated that documents and investigations in Pontevedra, Galicia, indicated that the birthplace of the discoverer of America was in Spain.

He asked that the Academy of history be directed to send representatives to Pontevedra for an investigation of the authenticity of the documents and other evidence.

DR. RUTH WARNS OF HASHEESH MENACE

Solemn warning against hasheesh, the new and insidiously attractive offering of the drug traffickers is given to the public by Dr. Erwin C. Ruth, head of the Boston branch of the Federal Narcotic Bureau, today through the Boston American.

Of all the drug habits, none are easier to acquire than that of hasheesh, according to Dr. Ruth, and in that fact is contained its great menace.

From one fourth to a full grain in a cigarette or cigar, the popular method of using it, banishes muscular fatigue and induces great exhilleation. Delightful visions are beheld and at first the reaction is so mild that there is no warning of the terrible aftermath to come.

Prolonged use of hasheesh brings on vertigo and headache with partial paralysis of the legs and eventually the victim is a wreck physically and mentally.

With cigarettes in such high favor among women, the hasheesh vice has comparatively little trouble in disposing of his wares. Once its first effects are experienced by high strung types, a craving is almost but infinitely formed by the victim who is not even aware of the nature of the drug.

Hasheesh is reddish brown in color and resembles an ordinary case of chocolate. Importation is prohibited by the government now to be in India. Dealers are reputed to pay huge sums to secure licenses to sell it. Its importation is now forbidden in fact but it is smuggled through in gas bladders which are tossed overboard when nearing Egyptian ports, and picked up by confederates.

THERE are several means of achieving the open-work effect which appears so frequently in this Summer's costume, and Lanvin does it in a coat of gray-beige wool fabric with folds of material over black satin. This coat has very much the effect of a daytime dress.

INTERWOVEN strips of self-fabric make an interesting trimming that is new and smart for a coat of black crepe satin. This is used for the collar and girdle, and bands of it finish the wide pointed sleeves and the skirt-edge.

WILD FLOWER SHOW EXTENDED TWO DAYS

The free wild flower show at Horticultural Hall is to remain open until next Sunday evening at 10 o'clock, instead of closing today, as was at first intended. Announcement to this effect has been made by the management of the show which is being given under the direction of the Massachusetts Horticultural society. The step was taken owing to the great and continued public interest displayed in the exhibits. More than 15,000 visitors have seen the show and more than 30,000 pieces of literature have been distributed.

John F. Stevens, labor member of the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railroad, died today at his home, No. 35 Mount Pleasant avenue, Roxbury, from pneumonia. He was ill but three days.

He was born in Boston about 10 years ago, and was educated in the public schools here. He was son John F. Stevens of the late John and Margaret Connors) Stevens.

He was for years prominent as a labor leader and served as business agent of the Stone Cutters' Union. When the "L" was placed under a board of trustees he was appointed as labor member of that body and served continuously since.

He is survived by his mother, with whom he made his home, and by a sister, Mrs. William F. Punch of Mattapan.

Boston Police War Against Smudged Auto Plates

Owners of automobiles with smudged license number plates, beware!

Maybe your number plate was accidentally mud-spattered or grease-covered.

Police have received orders from Superintendent Michael J. Crowley to halt all autoists with smudged plates.

"I believe many are camouflaged purposely," said the superintendent today. "We'll prosecute such owners for violating traffic laws. It is as despicable a practice as the placing of plates behind bumpers or under mud guards."

HUNT THREE IN MILLION MINE STOCK FRAUD

By International News Service.

New York, May 11.—Three new arrests are expected to be made today in the Yonkers gold mine fraud case, which, it is estimated, resulted in the "investment" of nearly $1,000,000 by public readers of some of the most average prospectuses ever written. Five men are in custody.

The unfolding of the case today supported the Barnum dictum that one is born every minute. An array of literature printed in English and Russian recounts the wild story of Alvie Chopack over the world in search of gold and his final discovery in the environs of New York of a field containing $11,000,000 worth of platinum, gold and silver. The formation of the Delaware Gold Company, Inc., is then recounted. There were illustrated reports of assayers showing a previous special value per ton of rock of $22.10.

The A No. 1 Tire Man of the Town

It takes about 80,000 tire dealers to serve the vast car-owning population of this country. What is your idea of what a tire dealer ought to be?

IN 1920 the makers of United States Tires brought a note of commonsense into the tire business with a message which said—

"Go to a legitimate dealer and get a legitimate tire"

From then on—over a period of two years—the American public was given the frankest picture ever published of the good and bad in tire retailing.

It was surprising how many car-owners were as anxious to find a legitimate tire dealer as we were to tell about him.

Today, go into any typical American city and you'll locate one or more tire dealers whose business rank is that of the best dry goods or clothing or hardware store.

This wasn't true a few years ago.

Now, when you think of the 12,000,000 automobiles that will soon be running in this country, you can see how legitimate tire merchants are needed.

Legitimate tires—such as U. S. Royal Cords. The clean selling idea—expressed by the Royal Cord policy.

Responsibility.

Where else can you get it—or how?

* * *

The A No. 1 tire man of your locality is not going to stop growing. He is an active factor in the new kind of competition, brought into the tire business by the makers of U. S. Tires.

A competition for more and more public confidence.

A competition for greater and greater public service.

The makers of United States Tires urge upon everybody—manufacturer and dealer alike—a new kind of competition.

Let us compete for more and more public confidence.

Let us compete for higher and higher quality.

Let us compete for still more dependable public service.

44TH ANNIVERSARY
1878-1922

The House Of Boyle

Pioneers of the Credit Business

Originators of "No Money Down" "Orders on Stores" and "Easy Terms"

World's Greatest Credit Clothiers

THE House of Boyle Bros. has been the leader in the credit business for nearly fifty years—almost half a century devoted to the service of people who needed liberal credit that they might properly clothe themselves and their families on equal price and quality terms with cash purchasers. All through these years, through good times and bad, the House of Boyle Bros. has extended the helping hand to all who needed credit with the result that more satisfied customers have been entered on the books of this House than ever recorded by any other house of its kind in America.

The House of Boyle Bros. originated the idea of selling clothing on credit at the same low prices as the Cash Stores, thus giving Boyle Bros. customers the same advantages as any cash customer at any cash store.

The House of Boyle Bros. during all of the past forty-four years has bought its clothing from the best standard makers of their time. Such clothing as the leading cash clothing stores served their customers—

Away back forty-four years ago the House of Boyle Bros. originated the idea of giving its credit customers "Orders for Merchandise" on the Department and other stores with the convenience of small weekly payments.

The House of Boyle Bros. has established the highest reputation for Fair Dealing, Honest Merchandise and most liberal credit—a standard that has never been lowered in 44 years of business life—that is the Record of Boyle Bros.

After all is said and done it is beyond honest human endeavor to make a greater success than that achieved by the House of Boyle Bros. in its chosen field—Speaking not alone of a financial success but also of that success in drawing to the Standards of this House the loyalty, friendship and honest praise of hundreds of thousands of men and women who even back to their grandparents have traded with Boyle Bros. to their profit, convenience and pleasure. For the month of May Anniversary offerings will be made in all departments that will represent a saving to our customers—We wish them to remember this event as a profitable one for them.

RADIO COMPASS TO BE PLACED ON EXHIBITION

By A. B. HOAG.

The first public exhibition of the new radio compass, receiver by means of which a ship is able to guide her course no matter how foggy the weather will take place in New York in a few days.

This has been made possible by an executive order just issued by Secretary of the Navy Denby.

Many serious wrecks have been avoided by means of the device, according to the records of the navy department. Several compass directional stations are maintained along the Atlantic Coast, so that even in the most foggy or stormiest weather a ship may get her bearings from them.

The receiver mounted on the ship is equipped with a highly directional form of the loop antenna, so that it is possible to guage accurately the direction in which signals are coming. By following on the chart the location of the compass stations, the ship's officers may reckon the position of the ship.

The compass receiver will be displayed at the New York Radio Show which opens May 22.

The newest party is the "radio block party." One is to be held in Somerville this evening. Special radio programs to be broadcasted from WGY and picked up by receivers and loud speakers for the party. Are you also waiting for 8 o'clock for first of waltz may tune to WGY this evening.

The party has developed from needs of the lighthouse keeper at his lonely post will be mitigated in the future by radio. The Department of Commerce is planning to equip the principal lighthouses, lightships, and larger seagoing tenders with radio sets. These sets will not only enable the keeper to communicate with the mainland but in many instances he will be able to listen in to concert broadcasts.

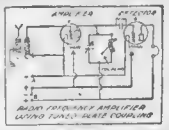
A remarkable record in shore to ship multiplex telegraph communication was reported by the steamship Baltic, which was in communication every night with the Chatham Massachusetts, radio station from the time of its leaving America until its arrival at Liverpool Bar. The Chatham station was using one and a quarter kilowatts on the antenna at the time. his has since been increased to three kilowatts.

GEORGE WALSH SUES TOM MIX OVER HORSE

Los Angeles, May 11—Joe, the equine cinema star, who bears the boss at neck breaking pace in pursuit of the villian in Will West movie melodrama, is the centre of a court suit filed by George Walsh against Tom Mix, cowboy actor. Walsh asserts that Mix is keeping possession of the horse unlawfully. Walsh says that in May, 1921, when he went East Mix requested that he leave the animal behind him until his return. Walsh complied, but when he returned he asserts, Mix refused to give up the horse.

Radio Question Box

W. W. D., Berwick, Me.—Variometers are not used in general for long-wave reception. The most convenient type of coil to use is the honeycomb. However, without changing your set fundamentally, it would be possible for you to load it up with loading coils to receive the longer wave stations. In doing this, one coil is inserted in series in the antenna circuit and a similar coil placed in the plate circuit in series. By using a shunt switch around these coils, it would be possible to throw them in or out as required.



M. J. R., Rochester, N. H.—High frequency transformers of reliable make are difficult to obtain at present. Generally the make advises a hook-up for his particular transformer. It is possible to use what is called a "tuned plate" circuit radio frequency amplifier. Here is the hook-up:

The plate battery in the amplifier. This is, of course, wrong, as the positive side of the filament goes to the negative side of the plate battery. If you cannot get a loading coil, I suggest that you use honeycomb coils to load the primary and plate circuits, as suggested above.

L. V. P., Chester, Vt.—Manufacturers of complete sets are not always known as such making public the wiring diagrams of their sets. I suggest that you write direct to the manufacturer for the information you request.

H. G., Boston.— Any approved lightning protection device may be used with a receiving set. Special rules have been formulated by the underwriters for telephone installation, so that the equipment is not always interchangeable.

By the Associated Press.

Paris, May 11.—The newspaper L'Eclair today printed the text of a military convention said to have been signed by representatives of the Russian Soviet army and the German general staff in Berlin on April 5, by the principal clause of which the Germans undertake to furnish the Red army with the arms and material necessary to equip 180 regiments of infantry and sufficient heavy field artillery for 20 infantry divisions.

NUXATED IRON

A DRIVING FORCE

BEHIND KEEN SUCCESSFUL MEN AND WOMEN

When you think of the successful men and women you know—people who are doing things in the world, whether it be in business, finance, civil and criminal life, politics, society, art or science—the kind that simply seem to radiate energy, vim and force, and who always seem to have plenty of reserve energy to draw upon when others around them are tired and exhausted—the kind that simply seem never to get tired, no matter how hard they work, play or live—the kind that simply seem never to grow old, but always retain their youthful vigor and vitality—the kind that simply seem never to have any troubles, but always forge ahead, no matter what others may be contending with—the kind that simply seem never to be ailing, but always full of life, energy and vitality—the kind that simply seem never to be sick, but always well and strong—the kind that simply seem never to have any nerves, but always have their nerves under perfect control—the kind that simply seem never to suffer from indigestion, constipation or biliousness, but always have a good appetite and digestion—the kind that simply seem never to suffer from backache, headache or kidney trouble, but always have the kidneys working properly—the kind that simply seem never to suffer from any of the functional disorders peculiar to their sex, but always have perfect health—the kind that simply seem never to suffer from colds, coughs, sore throat, bronchitis or lung trouble, but always have the lungs and respiratory organs in a healthy condition—the kind that simply seem never to suffer from rheumatism, but always have the blood pure and full of health-giving iron—the kind that simply seem never to suffer from impure blood, but always have their blood filled with iron—Nuxated Iron fills in enriching the blood and creating new red blood cells, strengthens the nerves, relieves the weakened tissues and helps to instill renewed force and energy into the whole system. Four million people use it annually as a tonic, strength and blood builder.

MAKE THIS TEST

See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired, next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day—after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength and endurance again and see how much you have gained. Numbers of people run-down people who were ailing all the while have actually increased their strength and endurance simply by taking iron in the proper form.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE

by Dr. Lewis Baker

"This extract from a letter of a girl 17 years old and who is in a bad way, I have never seen a case where people seemed to be more ready to respond and give relief at once. I went to the drug store and told that my parents were alarmed and placed me in the care of a specialist. My reply was a note—just he did nothing that helped me. I was nervous, irritable, weak, and my complexion was a green muddy color that was repulsive to look at. I could not sleep and after eating I would have a sick spasm. I lost interest in everything. I took Cadomene tablets on your advice, and oh, how I wish others could know the miracle that has been done in five weeks. A most wonderful improvement has occurred and I shall keep right on with this wonderful treatment, etc." Discovery Miss Madge Thomas, 216 Crescent St., Brockton, Mass.

Severe writer: I have such a very severe cough and cold and have not been able to get anything to help me. It is weakening my system.

Answer: Use the following: Get a 25c bottle of concentrated essence Mentho-Laxene and take every hour or two. You can be taken pure or made into a full pint of homemade syrup. Full directions as to use will be found on bottle.

R. M. H. asks: "I have tried to cure dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair and baldness with numerous tonics etc., but in vain. What do you recommend?"

Answer: I have been recommending the Cadomene Mixture for the past twelve years and the record of success is delighting me to no end. The best action of this remedy in general is for itching falling hair, dandruff etc.

Advice writes: "Let me say that my condition puzzles and worries me. In the last year I seem to have been growing old rapidly, though only 30. My head and eyes do not cooperate my strength and energy and lots of days are a trembling headachey loss of appetite many and sleeplessness. Despondency and worry over my condition are ever present."

Answer: You have impoverished blood (anemia) and failing supply of nerve force. Obtain Cadomene tablets at once and with full directions, use them, and an agreeable, pleasing restoration will come to your entire satisfaction.

M. O. C. writes: "Those are the symptoms which lead me to think I need medicine for kidneys and bladder: Severe backache, bloated, sunken, pale face, sore eyes, frequent desire to urinate, but scanty results of a dark color, and bad odor. Also smarting and stinging pains."

Answer: When such symptoms are present, Balmwort tablets are prescribed to take up and promote elimination, and produce natural functioning. Get them in sealed tubes with full directions.

S. B. C. asks: "Do you think it is possible to reduce my weight from 240 pounds to about 190 pounds?"

Answer: It is impossible to say just how much one can reduce until after trying, but 5-grain Arbolene tablets should be used according to directions with each sealed tube, obtainable at most any drug store. If the fault is unnatural you should easily reduce as desired.

Matron asks: "I suffer from headache and constipation periodically and my blood seems too thick, causing languor and tired feeling. I will thank you to prescribe for me."

Answer: Three-grain Iron tablets (not sulphate) are most effective in relieving constipation, thinning the blood, and removing the symptoms of languor, etc.

Note: For many years Dr. Baker, College Hall, Dartch, Chicago, has been giving free advice and prescriptions to millions of people through the press columns, and doubtless has helped to relieving illness and distress more than any single individual in the world. Thousands upon thousands have written him expressions of gratitude and confidence similar to the following:

Mr. Lewis Baker: Dear Sir—"I have been taking the Cadomene tablets for the past month. They certainly have done wonders for me, as I was so nervous I wasn't able to do my own housework. I was so sick and miserable. Now I can do all my own work and feel good all the time. My daughter and her husband have also been taking them and they help wonderfully. Respectfully, Mrs. E. Hager, 899 London Road, Duluth, Minn."

LIGHT-HEAVIES MEET AT THE BOSTON ARENA TOMORROW

AL ROBERTS IN BOUT WITH HARRY GREB

By Ringside.

Al Roberts, Staten Island light-heavyweight, who takes a whirl at Harry Greb at the Armory A. A.'s show at the Boston Arena tomorrow night, wants to introduce himself to Boston fans.

Matchmaker Alex McLean of the Triple A paraded into the sporting department with a letter he had received from Roberts. It was written in a bold hand. After a few introductory remarks, Roberts wrote as follows:

"I understand Boston fans are asking how I will show against Harry Greb at the Arena Friday night. Greb is not a stranger to me. When I was in the navy I battled Greb in an exhibition bout. I caught him on the jaw with one sweet right hand sock and he didn't look so impressive.

"I realize, of course, that Greb is one of the world's greatest fighters. Anybody who can trounce a man of Tom Gibbons' ability has not anything to worry about from most ring men.

"But I still think a right hand wallop can overcome a flock of cleverness. I'll force the issue and maybe hand Greb a surprise.

"I've fought thirty important bouts and have never been knocked out. And I don't think Greb can perform such a feat."

Roberts Due to Arrive in Boston Today

Roberts is due to arrive in Boston today. Billy Gibson, his manager, will probably not hop over from Big Broadway until tonight.

Greb will reach this city tonight. George Engle, his manager, writes that Pittsburgh Harry is in good condition and confident of the result of the Armory Club's bout.

There is considerable interest to see Greb owing to his desire to win the world's middleweight, light-heavyweight, and heavyweight titles.

Greb is matched to fight Gene Tunney in New York for the light-heavyweight title, while he is prepared to take on Johnny Wilson and Jack Dempsey any time these gentlemen desire a little fistic action.

Reservations for the Armory Club's show may be secured at No. 61 Court street.

Poor Officiating Injures Boxing at Worcester

"See where Jack Conway's winning streak was stopped after he had named fifteen victors," chirped the man with the diamond horseshoe as he breezed into the sporting department today. "Some very poor officials up at Worcester pulled the trick when they handed Jack Perry a gift decision over Eddie Shevlin. I was right down front where I could get rosin into my eyes and I saw everything that happened. And I want the world to know that Perry didn't win.

"It was just like the last bout between this pair at Boston. Perry kept rushing forward most of the time only to run into Shevlin hooks and jabs. Eddie outscored him about three to one. The crowd howled murder when the verdict was rendered, but the judges and referee didn't even blush. Guess they thought they were getting a hand for meritorious work.

"Jesse James would turn green with envy if he were to attend some of the Worcester shows. They give 'em as they ain't.

"Remember the Paul Doyle-Harlem Eddie Kelly bout? They gave Kelly the decision after he had been hit with about everything but the bucket. A couple of weeks later, at Lynn, Doyle knocked Kelly out.

Boxing Commission Should Investigate Conditions

"Then there was that Calzone-Algar affair. Algar got dizzy from knocking Calzone down. But the decision went to the Milford man, who, by the way, hasn't been able to box since.

"Also don't overlook the stunt pulled on Johnny Dundee, who walloped Johnny Shugrue, only to have the decision go to the home kid.

"A good tip to fighters who care anything about their reputations is to keep away from Worcester. They have a kindergarten for judges and referees in that town. And it doesn't look as though the pupils are ever going to get promoted.

"Worcester offers a good spot for the Boxing Commish to do a little house cleaning. Maybe the moguls will eventually show a little interest in the question of third and fourth rate officials."

RANK DECISION SPOILS CONWAY'S RECORD

Eddie Shevlin suffered the fate of Johnny Dundee, Paul Doyle, Greek Algar and other ring stars when he fought Jack Perry at the Lake A. C. of Worcester. Shevlin won by a margin of two to one, but was handed a rank deal by the officials appointed to judge the contest by the Massachusetts Boxing Commission.

Jack Conway, boxing editor of the Boston American, picked Shevlin to win. Conway had named fifteen victors in a row and would have made it sixteen in a row if it had not been for the weird finding of the incompetent officials who had charge of the Shevlin-Perry tussle.

Jack can pick the winners, but he can't pick the judges and referee.

If the Massachusetts Boxing Commission could select capable ring officials about half as well as Conway can forecast the results of ring contests, the boxing game would be in a more flourishing condition in this State.

Shevlin had defeated Perry twice in Boston prior to the Worcester meeting. If the men were to clash again tomorrow, Shevlin would enter the ring a two to one favorite. Perry never could get a decision over Shevlin without the aid of inefficient officials who should be removed.

Newspaper experts at the ringside condemned the ruling of the officials. Some of the newspaper comment follows:

Boston Globe—Jack Perry of Pittsburgh, 148½ pounds, defeated Eddie Shevlin of Roxbury, 146, in ten rounds. The crowd appeared dissatisfied with the decision. Perry scored a knockdown in the sixth round, but Shevlin hit almost two times to his one.

Boston Post—Jack Perry of Pittsburgh was awarded the decision over Eddie Shevlin of Roxbury in the 10-round final at the Lake A. C. The decision was booed by the big crowd. The Dartmouth coach of boxing was the cleverer boxer, getting in many blows to the jaw and body. His left kept Perry worried all through the fight.

Boston Herald—Jack Perry of Pittsburgh was awarded the decision over Eddie Shevlin of Roxbury in the 10-round main bout at the Lake A. C. The crowd did not like the decision.

The officials were: Referee, Billy George; judges, A. R. Billings and W. J. Kelly.

CALZA VICTOR OVER JIM LONDOS

By JACK CONWAY.

George Calza is still The Great Unbeaten!

The Italian wrestling champion continued his sensational career when he defeated Jim Londos, world's light-heavyweight champion, in two hours and twenty-eight minutes after a brilliant match at the Boston Arena under the direction of the Old Howard management.

A reversed double wrist lock brought victory to Calza. Londos suffering frightful agony under the power of the hold, was slowly dropping to his knees when it was apparent to everyone at the ringside that the force of Calza's hold would probably break his opponent's wrist.

Londos' manager then yelled to Referee Sam Smith that his man acknowledged defeat.

Calza dropped Londos to the canvas and the latter rolled over in a semi-conscious condition.

More than 5,000 persons saw the contest which was filled with all kinds of thrills. It was one of the most sensational wrestling matches ever staged in this city.

Calza was never in any great danger. On several occasions Londos managed to clamp on toe holds, but the Italian champion always managed to kick himself free.

London, on the other hand, was in danger more than a dozen times. Calza's wonderful ability with the wrist lock and headlock were the holds that caused so much trouble for the Greek champion.

It was announced that all bets were off before the match started. This was due to a blunder on the part of one of the attendants who thought that the affair was to be a handicap affair. It is the custom of the Old Howard management to call off bets under such conditions.

John Kilonis won over Pinky Gardner in 38m., 25s. by a hammerlock. Joe Turner defeated Charley Metro in 23m., 15s. by a weavel hold.

By CHARLES E. PARKER.

Harry Hillman's Dartmouth team will face a very typical Columbia array, when representatives of these two institutions meet in their annual track and field games on Saturday.

A typical Columbia team is one possessing a handful of real stars and a whole lot of third raters, Victor Grash, Walter Koppish, Walter Higgins and Bob Burtt being the real ones, and the third raters being two numerous to mention.

Already this season Grash has danced the century in ten seconds flat, and the furlong in twenty-two, so Grash should grab the dual meet sprints.

Already this season Koppish has been under 49 seconds for the quarter mile, so Koppish should cop the dual double furlong, and should place number 2 in the 220.

Already Higgins has traveled the half in an even two minutes and the one mile in four minutes, twenty seconds, so Higgins should wiggle home in front in both these events.

Already Burtt has tossed the javelin well over 180 feet, so Burtt should annex the title in that event.

But with those numbers on the program out of the way Dartmouth comes with a rambunctious rush. It offers Young in the two mile, Brown in the high jump, Schirt in the hurdles, Lee in the shot put and discus, Libbey in the pole vault and Swensen in the hammer, and those young men can be seconds slower or inches and feet lower than their recent performances and still surpass the best efforts of their Columbia rivals, while the array of probable second and third place winners on the Hanover team is proportionately as impressive.

There are perhaps three events in which some doubt prevails as to the outcome. One of them is the two-mile run, in which Young of Dartmouth, the favorite, will engage Allan Haskell, and possibly Bob Moore of the Columbia team.

Both the last named have been clocked in time so close to Young's best effort that the old chase to the tape in the last lap is likely to provide the leading thrill of the meet, and may result in an upset to the accompanying table.

The second event in which some are looking for a real battle, is the quarter-mile with Koppish of Columbia and Foster of Dartmouth as the leading participants. Foster sprung a surprise last week by whipping Penney's double furlong men. But he showed no indications of the speed necessary to overcome the Columbia whirlwind.

The competition in the third possibly doubtful event hinges on the physical fitness of Ken Libbey, Dartmouth's star pole vaulter. He suffered an attack of the "flu," and had not regained his strength when he performed against Penn last week. If he is in form he should walk away with the pole vault. Otherwise the event may prove a scramble with Sammis, Smith and Libbey of Dartmouth, and Burtt and Lockett of Columbia splitting the points forty ways.

Golf at Fitchburg

Fitchburg, May 11.—The first tournament on the new Oak Hill Country Club links, will be held saturday afternoon. It will be a sweepstakes event, handicap medal play and is expected to attract a large field. The links are in the best of condition. The formal opening will take place Memorial Day. The new restaurant at the links will open its doors Saturday.

Second "Y" Hike Saturday

Officials of the Boston Y. M. C. A. are emphasing the fact that the Walk Straight Club is open to the public. Saturday's hike will start from the Y. M. C. A. on Huntington avenue at 3 o'clock, and will wend its way to the aquarium and Fort Independence at City Point.

GOLF

By FRED G. THAYER.

W. R. Tenney has had his full week's fun. He won two prizes in the same club on two successive days for the first time in his life and added to his first hole in one, he should not put up any alibis for his game for at least a month.

* * *

Speaking of Brockton, word comes that at the Brockton Fair in the Fall a major event will be run off at Thorney Lea Golf Club when $300 in prizes will be donated for the golfers. This will be one of the biggest hits the Brockton Fair has ever instituted.

* * *

Damon Howard, president of Thorney Lea and also unbeatable on that course, states that golfers will have plenty of entertainment in trying to beat the record. Howard ought to know, for he hits them twice as long as any other man in captivity.

* * *

Bill Smith nearly broke another record at Wollaston when his tee shot just slid by the cup at No. 15 yesterday. The tee hit was all carry against the wind and few were successful in getting to this green. Had Smith holed his two here he would have had the only deuce at this hole for the day.

* * *

John Sullivan of Brockton holed out in one at the No. 6, 35 yards, at Thorney Lea last week. It is wonderful what a thing like this will do for a golfer. He is so pleased that he cannot tell you whether he used his driver or putter off the tee.

* * *

Dick Marden's 34, unassisted by his partner, was an exceptional combination of good driving approaching and putting. He is still working under the glamor of his recent 73 at Belmont.

* * *

Brick Small and Brice Evans, two old timers, found the going a bit rough yesterday. What would they do if they both got game and golden days.

There were two deuces at the No 8. Bill Thayer had one of these and also one of the two deuces at the ninth hole. This is what they call proper timing. They helped to win the big trophy.

* * *

There also were two's registered at the No. 13th and 16th holes.

* * *

Hoxie had a pretty birdie at the first. J. H. Churchill had the only three of the day at the fourth. The blood is bound to show up.

* * *

Arthur Chase had a pretty four at the fifth. Another one got down here in this figure. At the sixth there were four fours. The best of the field could do nothing better than five at the 11th. Strange there were no threes at the twelfth!

* * *

Woodland Golf Club is putting up three cups and three net prizes in their medal play tournament. This should draw a large crowd of golf hunters. Get your starting time ahead of time for today or tomorrow, for the field is bound to be large.

* * *

P. P. Murphy was hoping that his 2 at the seventeenth hole at Wollaston on Monday had been at the Winchester links yesterday. His team might have won another point.

* * *

The Boston Bankers' Golf League started their series of matches at Wollaston yesterday, matching cards at the end of their tournament rounds. The Nassau system of scoring was adopted, a point for each nine and the match, with the best ball and aggregate scores counting. First National Bank beat the Old Colony team, 5 to 1. At Quincy the State Street Trust Company and the Shawmut Bank played to a tie, 3 to 3. Four men played on each team.

Fans Call Fewster Heart-Breaker Chick

When "Chick" Fewster, the Yankees' outfielder, appears at bat fans yell: "Oh, you heart-breaker, Chick!" and the chorus take it up.

Fewster has been made defendant in a suit for $50,000 by a Baltimore man, charging alienation of his wife's affections.

"Chick" blushes all over as the fans kid him.

"It's great to be sued for fifty thousand bucks," he said, "even if I haven't it."

REVERE TRACK WILL SIGN LINART

Following his custom of furnishing the leading riders of the bike races Manager Nat Butler of the Revere Cycle track will close negotiations with Victor Linart of Belgium, world's champion pace follower, to ride at the Revere track this summer. Linart is coming to this country and is expected to reach New York next Monday.

The addition of Linart to the list of motor chasers gives the Revere track the cream of the pace followers of the world. Georges Seres will arrive in June. The world's championship, formerly held by Seres, was won by Linart last fall in Copenhagen. Seres failed to reach Denmark in time to defend his title and the Belgian grabbed the title.

These riders with George Wiley, George Chapman, Clarence Carman, Vincent Madonna, Lucien Miquel, Charlie Verkeyn and Frank Keenan complete a list of nine pace followers that should furnish plenty of thrills at the beach this summer. All are anxious to compete in the opening meet at Revere May 20 but Manager Butler will not announce his card until next week.

The ready response to Manager Butler's invitation to novice riders to compete in the opening event indicates some lively competition among these youngsters.

HARVARD EIGHT SHOULD BEAT TECHNOLOGY

Harvard is favored to win over Technology when their crews meet on the Charles Saturday afternoon at 3:30.

The Harvard crew, with Morgan back at No. 6, is more seasoned and has already gone through two of its major races.

Although Harvard has been defeated by Annapolis, Princeton, and the University of Pennsylvania, the dopesters agree that Harvard will cross the finish line first.

Coach Howe has had his eights on the river training as hard, if not harder than ever.

The M. I. T. outfit is not any too formidable, but Harvard figures that a victory by a good distance over its sister Cambridge institution will raise the morale of the Crimson crew for the coming battle with powerful Cornell on May 27 at Ithaca, N. Y.

The Harvard freshman crew, crippled by the absence of H. M. Bohlen at No. 7 on account of an operation for appendicitis, will also be the favorite in the yearling race.

With Rudd Ladd in the second varsity shell, the outlook is bright for a general cleanup from 4:50, when the freshman crews start, until the sun sets on the varsities careening over the course.

The crews will start at the Cottage Farm Bridge and finish at the Union Boat Club.

BRITISH OARSMEN MAY ROW HERE

New York, May 11.—Rowing enthusiasts are discussing with interest the possibility of an Oxford-Cambridge crew competing in this country during the coming Summer. According to word received from England, members of the two English University crews would not be averse to forming a combined eight-oared shell and rowing several races in Canada and this country in July or August, provided their opponents were selected along somewhat similar lines.

FRED TONEY REJOINS GIANT TEAM TODAY

St. Louis, Mo., May 11.—Fred Toney of the New York Giants, who has been working a kink out of his pitching arm at his home in Nashville, Tenn., rejoins the club here today. Toney declared he soon would be ready to go to the box regularly for the world champions.

SAILOR SOCCER TEAM PLAYS PORTUGUESE

By ART CURLY.

A soccer team representing the crew of the British cruiser Constance, will battle the Portuguese-American eleven of the local Boston and District League at Sullivan Square tonight. The kick-off will be at 5:30.

The crews of most British naval vessels have soccer elevens, sometimes more than one, and are strong for this favorite sport of their native land. The Constance has a fast team that will make the rugged Portuguese stretch themselves to find their own.

Last Sunday the Portuguese defeated a team representing the S. S. Digby, three goals to two. The latter outfit was made up mostly of Englishmen, and they made their opponents travel at top speed.

This match is the first twilight game of the year, and if local fans turn out in good numbers, more such contests will be arranged.

Lexington Wins First

Lexington High won its first Middlesex League game yesterday, defeating Belmont, 8 to 6.

Eddie Chews His Wad When It's Two Strikes

When Eddie Collins has two strikes on him he pulls a wad of chewing gum from the bottom of his cap and puts it in his mouth. Eddie only takes the charm off when he has two strikes. He usually gets a single after doing it. That's the pet superstition of the White Sox keystone sacker.

NEPONSET HAS FIRST GAME SUNDAY

The Neponset Wanderers will open their fifteenth season on Sunday with West Quincy at Neponset Playground at 2 P. M.

Captain John Buckley will lead the team again and the reliable "Dick Casey" will cover the initial sack, with Bosco Kelly on third and Daly, ex-Dorchester High School star at shortstop, the Wanderers' infield will be one of the strongest in New England.

The outfield will include Tim Clark, formerly with the Hayes Council team, and Bow Moulton and John McKenney of last year's team.

Buttenhuys, the Everett star, will twirl for the Wanderers with Daly, the ex-Dartmouth star on the receiving end.

'Y' HOLDS EAST OLYMPIAD JUNE 17

The Two-State athletic committee of the "Y" has secured permission to use the Harvard Stadium for its big Eastern U. S. A. Olympic Meet on June 17.

The program is as follows: 100-yard dash, 220-yard, 440 and 880-yard runs, one-mile run, 220-yard hurdles, running high and broad jumps and mile relays.

The Boston "Y" plans to enter a large team in this meet. It is expected that the trials will be held in the morning, in order to take care of the flood of entrants from all the "Y's" of the eastern States.

Another who claims to be a champ is Berne Webber, who tickles the ivories at McCarthy's.

GEORGES EXPECTS NO TROUBLE IN WHIPPING TED 'KID' LEWIS

CARP WILL TRY FOR A KAYO

By ROBERT J. PREW.

London, May 11.—English interest is entirely centred just now on the Carpentier-Lewis fight at the Olympia Stadium tonight at which Jack Dempsey, world's champion, will be a ringside spectator.

The chances for Ted Lewis appear brighter as the battle nears despite the fact that he will probably enter the ring at 149 pounds as against the Frenchman's 168. The Lewis sentiment is based partly upon his superior ring experience as he has fought upward of 200 battles, or more than twice as many as Carpentier.

Another factor in favor of Lewis is his absolute lack of "nerves." Wells and Beckett, as well as other British fighters who have encountered the Frenchman, have been paralyzed by his personality. But Lewis is unimpressionable and will go to his corner with an "ice cold brain."

The Kid told Universal Service that he is in perfect condition and said that like Fitzgibbons, he is always out to kill.

Carpentier rested after his strenuous training course which has been especially directed at developing a right punch. He says he is confident of finding an opening to deliver it for a knockout.

The general opinion is that Lewis can win only by infighting, but Lewis says he does not care anything about Carpentier's right as he has one of his own which he insured in America for $25,000.

The belief is that unless Carpentier knocks out Lewis in the opening rounds, he will win on a foul, as Lewis may resort to holding on, which English referees always penalize.

The bout begins at 9:30, London time.

BALL PLAYER IN SERIOUS COLLISION

Atlanta, Ga., May 11.—Centre Fielder Leifer of the Little Rock club suffered a fractured skull in a collision with Shortstop Jackson in yesterday's Atlanta-little Rock game. It was announced today by attending physicians at the hospital at which both were being treated Jackson received a severe laceration over the nose and right eye, it was said, which will keep him out of the game for several weeks. Leifer's condition was said to be favorable and was not expected to take any critical turn unless unforeseen complications set in. The fracture was just over the left eye.

BROOKLINE OARSMEN SWAMP HUNTINGTON

Brookline's four-oared crew had no trouble at all in defeating Huntington on the Charles yesterday. The former took the lead at the start and held it, leaving the losers six lengths behind at the finish.

The English style of rowing employed by Huntington proved of little value in this case, for the Browne and Nichols second crew, rowing for the sake of experience, also led the Huntington lads at the finish.

Lewis Is Set-up for Carpentier, Says Jack Conway

"This is a soft one!"

That's how Jack Conway sizes up the Carpentier-Lewis bout.

"Carpentier will rattle to victory under wraps," continues Jack. "Lewis couldn't beat Nate Siegel or Jack Britton and yet is bunking the public that he can wallop the Frenchman.

"It's a setup for Carpentier. After the bout, they'll spill the big news about Georges going to meet Dempsey again. Barnum was right."

SOX HOPE TO BUST LOSING STREAK

By NICK FLATLEY.

The Red Sox were begging for quarter today from the Detroit Tigers, the same being the remaining one-fourth of the series at the A. L. ball lot. The hostiles have now waltzed off with three in a row, two regular victories, and one burlesque, and all that was left for the natives was the fighting chance in this afternoon's finale.

H. Duffy's team sagged terribly after an auspicious start on the long home stand, and Hughie is busily engaged trying to shake things up so that he can get his engine rolling again. Shifting his batting orders produced better offensive results, but not quite enough attack to obliterate the effect of poor pitching.

The Tigers swing a lot of very dangerous bludgeons, and are shot full of "vim and wigor," now that they have blasted their way out of the cellar. It will take real flinging to upset them from now out, as they can make up for a lot of fielding slips by whaling runs over the saucer.

Herbie Pennock Will Be Ready Again This Afternoon

Herbie Pennock stepped off on the wrong pedal yesterday was chased early, and accordingly will be ready to see if he luck doesn't change this P. M. Herbie showed he was in form by blanking the Senators the other day, and never before in his life has he licked the Washington out.

As much of Cobb's bombarding power is left-handed, slim Herbie can do a Moses and put the club on the victory trail if he escorts all his stuff to the pitching peak.

Manager Tyrus intended to use a southpaw also, according to the morning papers, but they would say at the race track. He had Bert Cole ready, and that youth is heralded as one of the coming wonders of his own particular set. He broke in last year, and late in the season unfurled six victories in a row, which was a wonderful performance with that Detroit club.

Duffy's Club Bad for Portside Pitching, However

The Duffys, however, are a bad club for portside pitching, and the picturesque Tyrus may change his mind at the last minute and chase in one of his right-handers. He has several youngsters left and wants to work them out against powerful artillery, which the Sox can provide, whatever else their failings.

Ty himself is all slowed up by a bad ankle, but is just as spectacular as ever. He hurt his foot sliding into third down in the Spring series with Walter Hapgood's tourists, and really should rest up to get the pedal well. But he's so anxious to force his team to high speed that he just naturally has to get into the ball game.

Cobb looks to be as close to retiring this Spring as some young phenom just making the grade. It hurts him to scamper around, but he's always doing something to give the fans a thrill. Rogaways of Babe Ruths and others, young Cobb is still the most colorful bird in the game.

WALLOP RED FLINGERS ALL OVER LOT

Cincinnati, O., May 11.—The Braves now are in position to take a running hop, step and jump out of the National League cellar.

The main obstacle in their path is Johnny Couch, Pat Moran's fourth year-old rookie from the San Francisco Club of the Pacific Coast League who has won three games this year without suffering a defeat.

Couch will pitch for the Reds today in an effort to hold his club in seventh place. John Watson is booked to do the hurling act for the Braves and try to get himself and his mates up where they can at least see the smoke if not the sunshine.

The Braves got back to within striking distance of seventh place yesterday by doing some tall slugging against two tof Moran's right handers, Adolfo Luque and John Gillespie.

They pounded these two birds for thirteen hits for a total of nineteen bases and these, with six walks, a sacrifice and a brace of Red errors, produced nine runs, just thrice as many as the Reds made off Dana Fillingim, who was touched for eight hits and who walked four, none of whom scored.

All the Braves except Cruise and Fillingim shared in the slaughter of the Red pitcher. Powell, Southworth, Boeckel and Gowdy each drove in two runs Calvey threw in the other for Boston.

"THEN were lost!" groaned the doctor.

A voice he knew distracted his attention. It was the voice of Anna pleading with the bold Maldonado: "Please, Mr. Maldonado, don't do it. My guardian has the only one I've got left."

"Bah!" cried the unfeeling villain. "She is as good as dead already—Sobini—Sobini."

"Senor, did you call?" replied the versatile undertaker.

"Yes; make arrangements with this fortune hunter for his tombstone."

"Ah, senor, what color do you prefer—white?"

The doctor shuddered. "No, no, not white—I was in business in New York."

"How about a white one with black spots or a black one with white spots?"

"String him along Doc," whispered Briggs, "and I'll get the dope on the Sieve." He slipped away with Cola, leaving the tearful Anna to follow the overbearing Maldonado.

Sobini was a patient man; he had helped duelists select tombstones before, but never had he come across such a particular client as the pseudo Duke of Sizerella.

In the end the doctor insisted he would have to think it over. Sobini shrugged, pointed to the clock, which stood at five and left him.

Well might the doctor murmur to himself "Vanitas vanitatum." In his boyhood days upon Mount Parnassus he had dreamed great dreams, but never even after reading Jules Verne and seeing Sarah Bernhardt could he have imagined himself a duke in a fairy Spain about to be sacrificed for the delectation of a gloating population.

He was low in spirit, so low that he welcomed the thought of the coming peace forerunner as a relief from care. However, he was not an ostrich by nature and when Briggs rushed in with news of the duel he tucked back the tail of his coat an hour and left early.

And Briggs bore good news. "The Sieve is right away. Doc, there's a chance for our things to get out of it yet."

"Impossible!" cried the doctor, "I'm not taking a trip on the Sieve and put the doctor in a bottle and seal it so that Pantella's appearance on the way disconcerted him. The hotel keeper realizing that time was short, came to the point at once.

"Senor de Sizerella, my daughter Cremo wishes to marry you; she is called the beautiful rose of Bolognia."

"Funny, isn't it," replied the doctor, "how beautiful women can't resist."

"She's as good as she is beautiful."

"You don't say so; how could anyone be so wicked! Where is she?"

"I'll get her—and listen—marry her and you will not have to be afraid it's a revolver."

The doctor pressed himself as Panatella departed.

Came Briggs breathless. "It's all right Doc. Cola's got an express—er—pistol—all I've got to do now is to tail After."

"Where's Cola?" cried the doctor. "I promised my friend to leave without my little Cola."

"Shut up," said Briggs. "She's outside dusting off the donkey—is that our bus?"

"Yes, they haven't taken it upstairs yet."

"Good Lord it on while I give Anna the word."

Ah, my little Cola," cried the doctor, "how good you are and how thoughtful."

Here's the lovely Cola, the twin sister of Coca, who is telling Dr. Budd he has only a few hours to live. The doctor, as the "Duke of Sizerella," just arrived in Bologna to claim ancestral estates, hears this news with regret, as he has fallen in love with Cola. A scene from "The Beauty Shop," soon to be shown at your favorite theatre.

"Senor, you are lost unless you can hide yourself"—

"You mean?"

"My twin is on your trail, Maldonado has promised her to kill you without waiting for the duel if you try to get away."

"Ha, ha!" cried the doctor as his eye sought the big trunk "Why shouldn't I ride to the Sieve inside that trunk? It's an idea worthy of my great ancestors."

The lid went down. The busy Cola hailed half a dozen dice throwing gentlemen of leisure and the trunk was hoisted to a cart.

The last of the Sizerelas was in the trunk aboard a donkey express, waiting to start; Cola was waiting for Briggs; Briggs was waiting for Anna; Anna was waiting for Briggs and Maldonado was waiting for six o'clock, Cremo was waiting for the magic lotion to take effect and Panatella was waiting to hear what Sobini would say when he told him the duel would have to be called off

"For what a reason," stammered Sobini.

"The Sizerella is going to marry my rose of Castile," replied Panatella

"Traitor," shouted Sobini, "you have robbed me of a perfect funeral, ruined my tombstone business and made useless a casket I have been saving for years."

"Don't blame me," said Panatella. "Remember Eve didn't blow into the Garden of Eden for nothing."

Now it will be seen at a glance that Senor de Maldonado had plumed himself a little too much on securing the attendance of de Sizerella at the little slashing party on the duelling grounds. This fact dawned on him when the rosy Coca informed him that as far as she could see she couldn't see his target at all.

"Ha, ha; little Coca, I have attended to all that—I have performed what the hated French call a coup d'etat—the girl is locked in her room—as the celebrated H G. Wells remarked in 'The Island of Doctor Moreau,' 'none escape.'"

The busy little Coca expressed her doubts, but the overmastering assurance of her mighty lover convinced her she was only a feminine creation after all and she wandered off with him to while away the hour before the killing of the presumptuous Sizerella.

"It is with scorn that I meet this upstart," Maldonado confided to her. "I shall make a fine spectacle of him, believe me, or my name's not Kid Maldonado—I shall begin with slicing off his ears."

"How charming," cried Coca with flashing eyes, "how the people will applaud."

"Listen," said Maldonado; "I do not think you get the drift of the idea. Sobini and myself have rented the dueling ground for the evening and we are going to charge admission."

"Then you will be rich as well as handsome."

"Right, my pansy blossom; we will be married as soon as I put the finishing touches to this American piece de resistance and for our honeymoon I shall allow you to cook all my meals."

"Oh, you dear, generous darling."

Nothing could exceed the joy of the sweet girl on hearing this manifestation of love from the last of the house of Maldonado. The prospect of seeing the hated Sizerella cut into pieces by the master hand of such an artist almost brought tears to her eyes. She looked up at the executioner with a happy smile: "Think how much we shall have to tell our grandchildren," she murmured.

While the redoubtable one and the innocent Coca were thus dilating on events that had already begun to cast their shadows before, Cola, seated inside the trunk in which reposed the shivering form of the last of the Sizerellas, was urging the donkey toward the seashore.

The ride was not the essence of comfort as far as the doctor was concerned; the interior of the trunk was hot, likewise it was cramped; the uniform of the last of the Sizerellas was heavy. The doctor perspired freely. Every now and then he would raise the lid and ask in a plaintive voice if the Sieve were in sight, and every time the intrepid Cola would assure him that his safety depended on his low line of visibility.

Meanwhile the assidous Briggs had been busy eliminating Anna from the locked room. Anna being safely negotiated the rope he had brought with such skill that Mr. Darwin would have been delighted if he could have seen her. It was only a moment before the young man and his fiancee were following the lead of their illustrious compatriot on the way to the Sieve and the land of the free.

The sun began to decline. The throngs that had been looking forward to the duel began to crowd the gates at the scene of combat, the ticket-takers began to take in tickets. Voices of scalpers, selling fifty-peseta seats for two hundred pesetas, rent the air. Souvenir flags, bearing the arms of the Maldonados and the Sizerellas, were offered at exorbitant prices by illiterate vendors; and Sobini, the man of mystery, circulated among the crowds, keeping an eye out for unlicensed pickpockets and bootleggers.

Exciting? Nothing like it had ever been witnessed in Spain since the esteemed Isabella had turned the Moors out of the Alhambra. The killing of Sizerella promised to go down in history as one of the greatest pageants since the Field of the Cloth of Gold.

Was it any wonder that Maldonado smiled as he passed the wink to Sobini? Was it any wonder that he beamed over the dejection of Panatella when the man of destiny imparted to him the news that Cremo had stolen the girlish heart on the doomed duellist?

"So much the more for us, Sobini. And, as for Cremo, she will never have a puff at the cream-puff who will be a widow before she is even a wife. Ah, my boy, little Cremo will be a widowed weed."

WHEN A GIRL MARRIES

By Ann Lisle

"IF you're swinging along without even the proverbial shoestring you wouldn't be acting in an advisory capacity to people like Hoodlum or the Yonk crowd, nor me, for that matter," "Wouldn't I?" I chanced "Why not?"

Because we couldn't afford to have you!" he replied promptly. "Now about the newspaper campaign of mine, there's no question of your having newspaper credit. Just charge this new advertising against my account; and turn it in with my bill. I ought to be able to pay something on it next month—perhaps all, if the sale of mine brings in the ready cash I'm looking for."

So the arrangements were made as Mr. Derringforth wished them to be. For the life of me I couldn't determine whether he had seen my hesitancy, and had played upon it just as he desired or whether he'd given me the same treatment he'd have meted out to a man in similar position. It didn't seem likely that he'd be taking advantage of my feminine viewpoint and lack of knowledge of the game we were playing. Yet somehow I went away wondering if he hadn't made a fool of me.

With a sort of "be that as it may" attitude I went to the first paper on my list and arranged for space and the position it occupied. A courteous "copy" man went over my stuff with me, adding valuable suggestions and showing a knowledge of type and display which fairly dazzled me.

I snatched a bite at a lunch counter and drove to the second office on my list. There while I was threading my way through the press room—and supposedly contributing on all business of such importance—held out with the gesture which means "Stop," and mind did one of those flashes of the past. Somehow or other I found myself remembering vividly something Aunt Ruth had said to me weeks before.

"I got sick because I'd let you cut yourself off from me and land something far better through an old guy whose attitude toward you is a mere business one. So I laid down the law and made me account."

I saw in Carl's words a practical confirmation that he didn't know any too much about the Derringforth people. All I knew was that making a sale of the newspaper space I had taken on represented contract in their name.

But that advertising contract with the Record of a city's duties was in my name charged to A. L. Harlow.

The first was one the danger lurking in all I go on, courting disaster on? Should I pass still more [illegible] with the other four papers Mr. Derringforth had called?

USING FRUIT IN THE DIET

By Loretta C. Lynch

EVERY effort should be made in the springtime to replace some of the heavier desserts of winter by fruit in various forms. Dietitians agree that most city dwellers and those not residing where fresh fruit is expensive or difficult to get, do not get sufficient of the mineral salts fruit contains to maintain the best of health.

Where fresh fruit is unavailable there is the dried fruit and the canned. The former is much less expensive than the latter and one of the reasons that dried fruit is not used as often as it should be is because it takes some little time to prepare.

Generally speaking, the average housewife's time is not highly precious and the woman who has her family's welfare at heart will not begrudge the few extra moments it requires to pick over and put to soak the half pound or more of dried fruit.

Dried fruit should be scrubbed several times and rinsed in many waters. It should finally be covered with clear water and the container covered to prevent dust from falling into the water in which the fruit is soaking.

During the process of soaking, much valuable mineral matter gets into the water. It is, therefore, a mistake to throw out this water. The fruit should be set to stew in this water.

Stew the fruit slowly over a low fire and it will develop much of its natural sweetness. Toward the end of the cooking a little sugar may be added. Less sugar is required if it is put in toward the end of the cooking. Sugar loses its sweetness as it cooks.

For special occasions try serving cooked apples with whipped cream forced through a pastry tube and topped off with a brightened maraschino cherry.

Daily Short Story

MOONLIGHT AND MARTIN

By Lily Wandel.

UNDER the seductive June moon Ursula permitted Ray Barlow to slip his arm around her waist and draw her warm, throbbing little body close to his heaving chest, and when he bent his brown head she deliberately raised her golden one to meet his warm lips. To have answered "No" to the question that followed would have been like a discordant note in a lovely melody, a smear across a gorgeous painting.

But now it was morning, a cool, sober, matter-of-fact morning, and Ursula, shivering slightly, lay in bed suffering from the remembrance of last night. How could she, under any and all circumstances, have forgotten Martin? It must have been a dream, a dreadful, shameful but nevertheless delicious dream!

Martin, who was away on a trip, writing every few days the nicest of letters; Martin, of the best family in town, with all sorts of houses and bonds in his own name, the most eligible young man in the vicinity, the man to whom she became engaged nine months ago and whom she expected to marry very shortly, was desirable, and Ray Barlow—how could she ever have gone for that waif?

The door creaked and Salina, Ursula's younger sister, showed her smiling face and a long florist's box.

"Here's his card," motioned Salina carelessly.

Ursula flipped it over, turned pale and immediately slit the pasteboard under the covers. She pushed the box of flowers away, pretending she was sleepy, fell back and closed her eyes.

How dared Ray Barlow, the son of a poor widow, send her those costly flowers? And he had signed himself, "your Ray for life." Ursula smothered another groan. She must get dressed and first of all "Have you told anybody?" she whispered, tense with apprehension.

Ray smiled proudly "Everybody."

Ursula could not smother a groan and she burst into frantic tears.

Ray stopped his little car under a convenient tree, out of public view, and attempted to draw her to him, but she struggled away, sobbing wildly.

"Ursula," he ordered sternly, "stop this instant and tell me what has happened."

She could hold her secret no longer. It was bliss to tell the whole dreadful story to understanding ears.

A Better Job

"Ursula," and he drew her close to the blue serge coat, "why go through the dreadful mortification of asking Martin to forgive you? Even if he does, do you want to live in the light of his forgiveness all your life? Can't you see the wrong Martin Grover has done you, asking you to keep your engagement secret for this long time and then going off on pleasure trips, leaving you alone?"

She snuggled close, pressing her lips to the blue serge coat.

"And do you think I would have asked you last night if Old Uncle Jeremiah, who shamefully neglected us for twenty years, had not suddenly decided to get ready to die and begged Mother to come to his town house to live and had not given me a corking good position in his bank which makes riding in a flivver simply an eccentric hobby?"

This time her lips were above the blue serge coat, and this young man's awful illusion.

Promptly at 11 Ray drew up before the cottage and Ursula flew out, so that he might not by any chance see any of the family.

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the hair, makes the hair fade, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

IT'S always splendid luck to see a spotless page before you however dull most jobs may be, here's one that cannot bore you. You cannot fail to feel a thrill, or get a glow of pleasure at thought of writing what you will, in mad or merry measure. The page is yours for good or ill, for laughter or for sadness; but always it is best to fill the blank sheets up with gladness. If you should choose a dreary theme, devoid of hope and promise, your words might spell some brother's dream, might damn some doubting Thomas. If you should say: "It can't be done," some chap might then be fetered; where, had you cried, "Go to it, son!" his efforts had been bettered. Each newborn day as it appears is like the empty pages, a place for writing hopes or fears, for smiles or frowns or rages. Each rosy dawn will bring some chance for boosting or for knocking, for sending friends a sunny glance or saying something shocking. So use it like the empty sheet that's ready for your writing, help every chap you chance to meet, forget things dark and blighting. With every day a page that's new to fill as suits your fancy, it seems a fairy tale come true, a dream of necromancy. It's yours to make it what you will, so have it full of laughter; keep boosting folks along the hill to reach the goals they're after; keep writing messages of hope on each new day you're living, so those you meet will cease to mope and yodel with thanksgiving

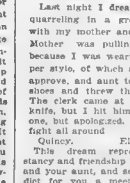
In Pitiable Condition When She Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound



Sabina, Ohio.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and irregularity. I was weak and nervous and could hardly stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal. I was this way for about a year and had tried several medicines and had a physician, but to no avail. My sister was taking your medicine and finally induced me to try it. I now feel fine and can do my housework without any trouble at all. You can use this letter for the sake of others if you wish."—Mrs. WELDON G. HATFIELD, R. R. 3, Sabina, Ohio.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so weak and nervous that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken when you first notice such symptoms as nervousness, backache, weakness and irregularity. It will help you and prevent more serious trouble.

FINANCE —AND— BUSINESS

By B. C. Forbes

Most persons who succeed uncommonly well in this world understand two things—their business and human nature.

And when you get down to the bottom of it, doesn't most business consist of understanding human nature and thus being able to please people?

• • •

The bitterness too common today between what is harshly called "capital and labor" is the outcome of industry and business having been made so terribly impersonal. Workers in large concerns do not feel they are working for any human being or human beings, but for that vague thing known as a corporation. Just who or what the corporation consists of workers rarely know. The owners, the powers behind the throne, are to them mere shadowy ghosts, intangible entities, not human beings worrying over sickness among their children or how to keep their wives contented.

• • •

Some twenty years ago when mergers, combinations, trusts, sprang into vogue, those engineering them brought about unwieldy monsters in many instances. Not more than only a few score or a few hundred workers had previously been the rule, there were hurriedly thrown together gigantic plants employing thousands, even tens of thousands. To keep track of such vast armies of workers, an expedient which formerly flourished mostly in prisons was adopted.

Men were deprived of their names and became nothing but Number So-and-So.

That one shortsighted step did more to arouse antagonism to huge business corporations than probably any other single thing they did.

After all, about the only thing most of us have is our individuality, our personality, our name, ourselves. We may not amount to much. But still we are we. We do not want to be a nobody, but yet we at least are somebody.

The trust magnates or managers who first perpetrated the blunder of robbing workers of their names and tagging them each with a number, a la convicts, were woefully ignorant of human nature, woefully ignorant of the mental makeup of workers.

• • •

Happily, there is setting in a movement in the other direction. The executives of intelligently-managed enterprises are striving to overcome the human touch, the personal touch, the intimate touch, with their working forces. Instead of dwelling upon the many activities now conducted at innumerable works to effect this wise purpose, it may be interesting to note an innovation that is to be introduced by one utility corporation for the purpose of getting back to the old-time way of knowing and treating men as men, not as mere numbers.

• • •

President John A. Ritchie of the Fifth Avenue Coach Company, employing over 200 buses upon the streets of New York, who has succeeded in inducing his conductors to become the most courteous public utility employes in America, announces, "No more numbers for bus men." How well trained these conductors are may be gathered from the fact that there was only one justified complaint for every 616,505 passengers carried in March. The spirit of friendliness and helpfulness between the company's men and its patrons has been assiduously inculcated by Mr. Ritchie ever since he took hold, and he believes that by having his men known to customers by their names will help him keep them this spirit will be still further developed.

Says Mr. Ritchie, in announcing that hereafter each man will wear a badge bearing his name tastefully set in a design bearing the words, "Service, Civility, Loyalty."

"In the coach company we have always recognized that none of us can do his best work unless he is contented, and to be contented it mustn't own health must be good and his home life must be happy. Above all, he must have self-respect; he must feel at all times that he is a worthy citizen, with servility toward none and civility for all.

• • •

"A conductor, in the minds of most people, is frequently an impertinent subordinate who surly collects fares and rings bells.

"The coach management is seeking a better word than 'conductor' to designate the bus transportation salesman."

So long as there is a chasm between "capital and labor" we cannot hope for permanent industrial peace and prosperity. Misunderstanding can be supplanted by understanding only when employers take into street conductors the wake-up of the human mind and the human heart, and realize that, while some must take orders nevertheless, we are all made of the same clay and have the same hopes and fears and vanities and aspirations and sensitiveness.

Stocks Rally Before the Close; Money Down to 3½%; Foreign Exchange Up

STEELS RISE IN AFTERNOON TRADING

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor.

Stocks were irregular in New York at the close, with most leaders showing gains. Independent steels were foremost in the last hour advance, Lackawanna making the biggest gain. The market was active after the first hour, it being a million-share session.

The big advance of wheat in Chicago helped sentiment. It will encourage commodity buying by farmers.

At the close Lackawanna Steel was up 7 points at 65¾, its highest for the day; Republic, 3 at 66⅝; Crucible, 1⅝ at 68⅞; Bethlehem B, 1⅝ at 72; Midvale, 1⅝ at 38; Vanadium, 2⅞ at 48; Replogle, 1⅜ at 33¾, and Gulf States 1¼ at 82¼. U. S. Steel advanced ⅝ to 97⅝.

Retail Stores, one of the most active stocks, climbed 2⅞ to 64⅝; Western Petroleum advanced ⅝ to 125⅛; Studebaker was up ⅝ at 116⅝, and Baldwin ⅝ at 115⅝. Losses were small.

After an irregular opening, the market turned weak and, although there was a rallying tendency at times, it had a downward tendency all the morning, forenoon declines exceeding 3 points in some instances. Oils, equipments, rails and several specialties were conspicuous in the descent. There was a renewal of short selling by professionals and many outsiders took commission house advice to realize profits.

The lowest price level was reached in the noon hour. Then a lower call rate had some effect and there was a rally, which took prices to the highest level in the fast hour. Steels, rails and equipments led the recovery. The opening call rate was 4¾ per cent. It quickly dropped to 4 and then to 3½ per cent.

Uncertainty as to how the Genoa conference will end promoted caution in speculation, but did not prevent foreign exchange from advancing. Trading today was marked by liquidation of a number of specialties which have been neglected until lately. Pools have been selling out, and the professional crowd is acting as if some influential support had been withdrawn.

The halt in the advance of stocks has diminished the confidence of investors to a slight extent, while speculators have been disturbed by the fluctuations of the money rate.

PRICES RECEDE ON BOSTON EXCHANGE

The Boston market was irregular at the outset and prices eased off during the first hour. It was weak by mid-morning. But losses, like gains, averaged small. No stock enlivened trading, which was narrow during the forenoon. Coppers, rails and packing issues were down a little. Largest interests were Montana Coal 1 to 58 and Agricultural Chemical common 1⅝ to 39⅜. Among declines were American Sugar 1⅞ to 73, Calumet & Hecla 1 to 270, American Woolen 1¼ to 90⅜, Maine Central ½ to 42, and Utah Copper 2¾ to 64⅜.

Weakness prevailed in the afternoon, local stocks being down three to one. Calumet & Arizona slumped 2¾ to 57, while point or more losses were sustained by U. S. Smelting, Boston & Maine common and A, West End, Mexican Investment and Eastern Manufacturing. Boston & Maine was up a point.

The Curb was heavy at the start and while it improved when the Stock Exchange opened it remained under the morning. The most active of its issues were Boston & Montana Crystal and Ruby. Gains at noon included Bagdad 1 cent at 23 cents, Shea Copper 5 cents at 75 cents, Crystal 1-16 at 1⅜, and New England Fuel ½ at 44. Among declines were Boston & Montana 1 cent at 13 cents, Ruby 1 cent at 26 cents, Mutual 3 cents at 23 cents, and Jerome Verde Development ¼ at 63⅜.

London Market

London, May 11.—The strength of home rails featured the stock market, which was steady. Consols opened 56¾, on 5½ British War loan 101 5-32, 5½ 1929-47 99 29-32, 5½ 1937-47 99 13-16, 4½ 1925-57 90, 4½ 1900-30 90, 4½ 1940-60 90, 4½ Russian 32, 15½; 4½ 1926, 12; 5½ 1906, 13. Brazilian 3 funded 53, Rio Tinto 24 15-16. The Indian Exchange Supply tax free debenture loan of £2,000,000 at 5 per cent, issued at 98 in denominations of £100 and £500, and the Calcutta issue of £250,000 7 per cent, debenture bonds issued at 95 in denominations of £100 were fully subscribed.

Bonds Showed a Reactionary Trend

New York, May 11.—While the bond market was moderately active it had a reactionary trend. Liberty bonds were steady, most foreign issues declined and New York railroads reflected selling pressure. As a class railroad bonds were heavy.

The halt in the advance of stocks has diminished the confidence of investors to a slight extent, while speculators have been disturbed by the fluctuations of the money rate.

Eczema Caused Years of Intense Agony

"I have suffered intense agony from eczema on my leg and other parts of my body for years, and received only temporary relief from other preparations. It is only a month since I started to use PETERSON'S OINTMENT, and there is no sign of eczema or itching. You can refer to me. Mrs. Ida Silva, 47 Fenelia Street, Buffalo, N. Y."

"I've got a hundred testimonials, says Peterson of Buffalo, just as clear as these and honest as this one. Years ago when I first started to put out PETERSON'S OINTMENT, I made up my mind to give a big box for 35 cents, and I am still doing it, as every druggist in the country knows.

"I guarantee PETERSON'S OINTMENT because I know that its mighty healing power is marvelous. I say to every one who buys a box that if it rightly guaranteed for eczema, salt rheum, old sores, blind, bleeding or itching piles, ulcers, skin diseases, eruptions, scalds, burns, sunburn, etc., if not satisfactory your druggist will return your money. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

TIME LIMIT ON SETS MIDNIGHT TOMORROW

By THE TEST EDITOR

Drawing No. 1 of the Boston American's $5,000 Famous Titles Test will be reprinted on Saturday of this week with its Correct Title.

The second problem of the great Test will be reproduced next Monday and one drawing every day thereafter until the checkers at Test Headquarters are ready with the first instalment of their ten thousand dollar story; that is, the list of 100 signers in the $5,000 Membership Competition.

With that story out of the way at least two Famous Titles Test Drawings will appear daily with their Correct Titles. Each contestant will know how he or she standing as soon as it is known to the Boston American.

THE TIME LIMIT.

Please remember that the time limit on Famous Titles Test sets of answers expires at midnight tomorrow night. At that hour your set must be either in the mails or delivered personally at this office. Those who prefer may bring their parcels to No. 80 Summer street, Boston, where clerks will be waiting in the Business Office on the street floor. No parcel will be taken over the counter there—under any circumstances—after midnight tomorrow night.

A final caution is addressed to everybody on the subject of postage. It is absolutely necessary that the packages be FULLY PREPAID at LETTER RATES. Under the rules the right is reserved to refuse to consider any set which arrives bearing a "Postage Due" mark. Tell the man at the Post Office the parcel must come as "first-class" mail.

NAME AND ADDRESS.

And please do not forget the importance of writing your own name and address on the outside of the wrapper. In the upper left-hand corner. Then the address: "Title Test Editor, Boston American, No. 80 Summer street, Boston (8), Mass. P. O. Box 239."

If your home is in one of the hundreds of small communities where there are but one or two mails a day, or out on an R. F. D. route where the post office comes but once in twenty-four hours, do the best you can to meet the "time limit" requirements.

Anna M. M., Dorchester—You would be impossible to answer your question without telling you whether the title you have selected is the correct title. That I am not permitted to do.

G. L. K.—The titles were all taken from poem—Book of Titles, most of them from Granger's "An Index to Poetry and Recitations," but usually the titles as listed in this Index appear within quotation marks. In these cases the titles in our Lists of Titles appeared with "" around them. The quotation marks have no other significance.

ONLY ONE TITLE.

P. D., Lawrence—Please do not send in the complete Lists of Titles. Send with each drawing only the ONE title you have chosen as Correct Title.

Belle, Cambridge—No ruling has been made here on the obsolescence of any word. That is for the lexicographers. The artist is not restricted to any one dictionary; no dictionary is prescribed before any other.

Follower, Roxbury—If you get them here before midnight tomorrow night, yes.

L. R. M.—There will be two staffs of checkers, night and day; in the result of the Membership Competition will be rushed with all the speed consistent with accuracy.

P. H. C.—I have nothing on which to base an estimate; "testers" who have come to the office for Back Pictures appear to be guessing. The clerks report, that this Test was more difficult than any of its predecessors. Interesting 80 per cent. of its full capacity.

Watch for the Boston American Industrial Review every day on the Financial Page. Up-to-the-minute news of Labor and Capital from all parts of New England.

NEW ENGLAND INDUSTRIAL REVIEW

The Boston American every day publishes an up-to-the-minute review of industrial conditions throughout New England.

This will be found on the Financial page. Novice for it. Very latest news of labor and capital received from the Boston American's special correspondents and investigators.

"Big" mill owners in Lawrence, Rhode Island and New Hampshire are the ones who are preventing arbitration of the textile strike, according to a man close to one of the biggest cotton manufacturers in the United States. They are ready to fight for months, if necessary, rather than recall the 20 per cent. wage cut. Meanwhile, the "little fellows" are reported as suffering, and ready to compromise, if they dared to break away from their more powerful associates.

One encouraging bit of news comes in the day's industrial report. Plant A of the Parker Mills, Fall River, closed a year for a reorganization of the company, is being operated again. Several hundred hands are again taken out of the unemployment line.

Lawrence Spends $2,000 Weekly for Relief

Lawrence, May 11.—Relief is being given out in this city at the rate of $2,000 a week by the combined union forces among the strikers. Landlords in many instances have received no rent for six weeks, and a particular hardship is being forced upon certain property owners who are striking themselves, in not being able to collect rents. Many families of mill workers were forced into landlord positions by the bogging of their parents in the textile boom and are now left high and dry on the rocks of financial difficulty, having purchased on the height of the market.

Fall River Plant Is Reopened After Year

Fall River, May 11.—After having wholly shut down since early in March, 1921, on account of the general reorganization of the company, Plant A of the Parker Mills has resumed operations. Plant A now has a working force of 1,000 hands, with no new promises than before this week. Mills were irregular. Among those to advance were Cohen Dominican Sugar, Dunlop Motor and Mexican Seaboard. The last named reacted.

Clean Up and Paint Up

Clean Thoroughly; Paint With GOOD Paint

Copyright, 1922, Star Company

In different cities, at different times, "Clean Up and Paint Up Week" is appointed. It's a good idea, a good week. But Spring is here and for a while every day and EVERY week ought to be "Clean Up, Paint Up" time.

A man's house, inside and out, like HIMSELF and his family should be self-respecting and respected by others.

For the house, inside and out, cleaning and painting are a necessary prelude to respectability.

There is no better exercise than cleaning; none more satisfactory in its results when it is done.

There is no work more entertaining than painting; none better worth while when it is finished.

Cleaning and painting mean HEALTH as well as better appearance.

For the processes of cleaning and of painting everything has been provided plentifully, intelligently and reasonably. All you need do is PROVIDE THE ENERGY AND THE WILL.

The brooms, the mops, the oils, the cleaning powders, soaps, cakes and preparations of all kinds have been prepared by trained workers, experienced chemists. Millions have been invested in them and are back of their reputation. They practically EAT the dirt, injuring dirt only. And cleaning today for the willing cleaner is, compared with what it was a few years ago, like play compared with work. Get the right cleaning materials, the kinds well known, with a reputation.

A great many do not appreciate the importance of Spring painting, its value in preserving VALUES, its even greater value in health, destroying germs, eliminating destructive and dangerous insect life.

Begin in the right way—PAINT THE KITCHEN. Clean it first from top to bottom, then paint it.

If you can find the painter, and have the money, hire a man to do it.

Give work to others when you can, especially just now.

If you have time on your hands, more time than money, DO IT YOURSELF. Make everything clean and smooth, then get the right paint and brushes, the kind of which the name is known, not something recommended as "just as good." To see a beautiful, even color spreading over a room is a pleasure to the worker.

If your wife, mother, daughter or sister spend part of their time working in the kitchen, you show respect for them in making it cheerful and bright.

If you have others to work there for you, you make them more contented. And you show that you consider their work and the room in which they do it important.

A house, like a man, is judged first of all by its appearance.

Make THIS week "Clean Up and Paint Up" week. Clear away trash; burn it, get rid of it. Clear away dirt, the slow collecting dust. PAINT after you have CLEANED floors, woodwork, furniture. All can be transformed, the house made new and inspiring, by a very little money, not enough to make any difference, and a little work.

To be cheerful inside of your own MIND is the beginning of success outside. You know that.

To be cheerful and bright inside of your own HOUSE is the beginning of family cheerfulness, success and the respect of others outside.

CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP and let THIS be the week.

Vast Russian Army

With German Officers—No Idle Dream

Copyright, 1922, Star Company

Frank Vanderlip, once president of the biggest bank in America, says: "The very imaginative see a vast Russian army officered by Germans."

You don't have to be VERY imaginative to see that. It's been suggested in this column many a time in the last three years.

Before the war Russian industry was a vast army "officered by Germans." The Russians resented it, and they would ordinarily resent German management of their ARMY. But if Western Europe insists on it, it will have the pleasure of meeting that "vast Russian army officered by Germans," and little Belgium, which, according to Barthou, has persuaded France to take the Belgian view as to how Russia should "be governed," will find a job on her hands when it comes to stopping THAT army. One hundred and fifty millions in Russia, plus sixty-five millions in Germany, might equal trouble.

One problem of the white races of Europe, which insist on swindling, taxing, robbing and murdering each other, is that "Russian army officered by Germans," supplemented by additions from Bulgaria, Turkey and elsewhere.

The spectre that hangs over all the white races is a Chinese army officered by Japanese. If the whites of Europe bleed themselves white, starve themselves and play the part of usurers, one against the other, thus weakening the resistance of their race, let them look out for the yellow men.

All the more reason why this country always, THIS CONTINENT, should keep itself strong enough and independent enough to meet anything, white or yellow.

China Is Preparing

Her Leaders Have Discovered That Turning the Other Cheek Does Not Do With the Modern White Nation

The treatment which the white nations have accorded China in the last few years is gradually militarizing this great people with their 400,000,000. Their intellectual leaders have discovered that the turning of the other cheek does not work with the modern white nation, and that it respects you only when you have the power to compel respect.

Therefore, China is arming and is drilling her 400,000,000 of brave people. Woe be to the western civilization and to the white man's predominance if the east under the hegemony of Japan is compelled to adopt the white man's ways because the white man will not be decent to him until he has the power to compel decency at the point of a gun.

Transit Commissioners

Method of Selecting Them for Proposed Metropolitan District Almost an Absurdity

House Bill No. 1665, which is entitled "An Act to Create the Metropolitan Transit District," we have not examined with sufficient care to comment upon generally. But we are quite prepared, however, to criticize and to condemn the method by which the commission to operate a metropolitan transit district is to be selected under the terms of the bill.

Two of the five commissioners are to be the chairmen of Department of Public Utilities and the Metropolitan District Commission. The chairman of the Public Utilities Commission is to act as chairman of the new Transit District Commission. This is almost an absurdity. Both of these public officials have, or ought to have, all the work they can possibly stagger under now.

George W. Anderson, now a judge of the United States Court and one of the ablest men who ever sat on a railroad commission, was driven out of his place as a public utility commissioner because he was not giving all his time to the work of the commission.

We have accepted the policy of giving all one's time to the Public Utilities Commission and Mr. Atwill ought not to have any spare time to run a railroad. Moreover, as chairman of the Public Utilities Board, he is constantly acting as arbitrator between the street railway and the public.

We do not want the board of directors of a street railway system under public control to degenerate into the kind of directors which are supposed to, but never do, operate our railroads under private control—mere names and nothing more.

We have seen what the public trustees of the Boston street railway system have been able to do with the assistance of the general manager, Mr. Dana, and we do not want to have mere figureheads on this board, as Mr. Atwill and Mr. Bailey and Mr. Cole would have to be if they did their full duty in their other public offices.

Help Drug Addicts

State Asked to Provide Institution for Their Protection and Cure

Dr. Kelly, the State Commissioner of Public Health, and Dr. Kline, the State Commissioner of Insanity, have united in asking the State to establish some institution which may be devoted entirely to the protection and cure of drug addicts.

As we have frequently pointed out, there is today no place where the victims of the drug habit can be treated effectively and specially. A very large percentage of the victims of narcotic drugs are not criminals, but respectable people who contracted the habit during painful illnesses when physicians, to alleviate the unbearable pain, were obliged to administer it. To herd such persons with a gang of criminals is indecent and inhuman and ineffective.

To segregate them for a short period as respectable unfortunates who are sick, but who feel no disgrace on account of it and whose families do not feel disgraced and are not ashamed of them on account of it, to treat them as you would treat those who are sick and ordered to the hospital, is to aid them to recover from the habit and to restore them again to the community in full possession of all their faculties.

There cannot be any doubt that Dr. Kelly and Dr. Kline are right. From every point of view, unnecessary delay in establishing separate institutions for the treatment of these drug addicts is saving at the bunghole and wasting at the spigot. The restoration of a citizen to full manhood or womanhood is worth in dollars and cents to the State a great deal more than it would cost. The social value of the process could be even more profitable.

Military Efficiency

Lieutenant-Colonel Major Unfit for Promotion If He Holds Views Accredited to Him

Lieutenant-Colonel Duncan K. Major lays down as his chief proposition in the test of the efficiency of soldiers that the greater the casualties the more efficient the military unit under test. It is scarcely credible that Colonel Major should either promulgate or entertain such a view of military efficiency.

For example: In the Civil War, Grant, through some mistake, ordered an assault on the Confederate breastworks at Cold Harbor. Lee had ordered these breastworks to be abandoned because he appreciated that against properly directed artillery fire they were untenable. When, however, the commander of that segment of Lee's line saw that instead of an artillery attack the Northern troops were going to make a frontal infantry assault, he realized that they were going to slaughter and be postponed his retreat long enough to receive the attack. In a few minutes the Northern soldiers lost 10,000 men in front of those breastworks and were hurled back. When they had been thus slaughtered the Confederates retreated and gave up the positions which the Northerners occupied at the cost of 10,000 men when they could have done so without the loss of a man.

Was that efficiency?

If Lieutenant-Colonel Major is correctly reported as entertaining this view of the efficiency of troops, he is certainly not a man to be promoted into responsible positions controlling the lives of troops and soldiers in action.

Why Have Your Head Cut?

Copyright, 1922, Star Company

John Vokel, riding in a "sedan" automobile with big glass windows, had the back of his head cut off and died instantly when one of the windows broke in an accident.

It may happen at any moment to anybody. It is absolutely unnecessary and NOBODY WORRIES ABOUT IT.

Two kinds of glass are made that do not shatter or break into big splinters as ordinary glass does.

Yet all glass in automobiles, from the windshield to the glass in the rear is of the shattering kind, because the public doesn't care, is not sufficiently interested to pay the few extra dollars to guarantee safety.

Strike Would Be Disaster

We wish Mayor Curley strength and judgment in his efforts to prevent a strike in the building trades now.

It would be a great pity if such a disaster in this community were precipitated by the unreasonableness of either the employers or employes.

Letters to the Editor

Thanks From Postmaster

Editor Boston American:

I wish to express to you my very great appreciation of the valuable and co-operative assistance which your publication gave us during Postal Improvement Week, which has just ended.

We feel very much pleased with the results of the campaign which was conducted during the week, and many of the large mailers who have made a tour of the office have said that their visit has been very instructive, and they have agreed to more fully co-operate with us for their own benefit.

ROLAND M. BAKER,

For Women Jurors

Editor Boston American:

There is a simple way to solve the problem of finding accommodations for women jurors. Add to the bill making women eligible to jury duty a clause providing that where suitable quarters cannot be given them in the Courthouse, the woman jurors may be shut up for the night in a room in a hotel. This is done in a number of other States, and it seems to answer perfectly.

To appoint a commission to investigate Courthouse accommodations, and meanwhile to debar women from jury service till after the commission reports, looks to many women like shelving the whole matter indefinitely.

Seen and Heard

By Lambert and Daily

STANDISH WILLCOX, social secretary to MAYOR CURLEY, is in quite a quandary as to where a perfectly good pair of rubbers have gone. He purchased a pair of custom-made shoes and had a pair of rubbers made to fit. During the recent heavy rainfall someone without the necessary boats took his.

"TEDDY" JENKINS, who operates the east wing elevator at City Hall, allows that sometimes it pays to be caged in. While the car was standing on the Mayor's floor the other day, part of the ceiling three floors above fell and struck the car top, throwing the plaster in all directions. "Teddy" escaped injury, but was badly frightened.

The county officials are now accusing COMMISSIONERS JOHN M. GROSVENOR of Essex and ALFRED L. CUTTING of Middlesex of deserting them in their fight against Governor Cox's attempt to get State control of the county penal institutions.

Talk about your HARDING "BLUES," what about the CURLEY GRAYS? Take the "tip," It's the latest style. "JOE" ROURKE, commissioner of public works, has one; SECRETARY MICHAEL J. WARD, is wearing one; DANIEL J. LANE, councilor, has fallen into line, as well as COUNCILLOR HENRY E. HAGAN and PRESIDENT DAVID J. BRICKLEY of the Council. They are all tweeds, too. Better get busy.

MISS MARION W. COTTLE, woman lawyer, is urging members of the Legislature to create a place for a woman on the Industrial Accident Board. She says the 600,000 working women of the State should have definite representation on a board whose expense they are helping to pay.

ATTORNEY - GENERAL ALLEN'S political opponents accuse him of having "booted one" in his opinion against the Sheppard-Towner law when he said the prohibition amendment is the only one that gave Congress the power to enforce its own acts. They say the anti-slavery, due-process-of-law and anti-color discrimination amendments are among those that contain the power, and if Allen is right the Dyer anti-lynch bill is wrong.

What was good enough for the people back in 1873 is equally good enough for them in 1922, says DR. FRANCIS X. MAHONEY, health commissioner. The doctor was referring to an order of the Board of Health at that time, which read as follows: "The path to the Board of Health shall be easy for all and no one shall get tripped on his way here by red tape or twine." The order stands as is, says the "Doc."

Whenever CITY COLLECTOR WILLIAM H. McMORROW wants some doughnuts, he knows where to go. MR. McMORROW, in his usual affable manner, did a kindly turn for a Civil War veteran the other day. In return the veteran said: "If you are ever hungry, Mr. Collector, come to my home in Highland street, Roxbury, and my wife will fry you some of the finest doughnuts ever fried in the city of Boston."

EX LIBRIS

By Zoe B. Faber

A NUMBER of years ago Dr. Henry Van Dyke, professor of English at Princeton University, gave at the University of Paris a series of lectures, of which the purpose was to acquaint French people with the underlying spirit of America and clear up to the best of his ability many confusing impressions which the different types of traveling Americans had given in France.

These lectures, or rather seven of the original twenty-six, have been published in book form under the title of "The Spirit of America," by the McMillan Company, and they constitute very good and interesting reading for Americans who can easily afford to assimilate further knowledge about many things of and in their own country, concerning which they are amazingly uninformed.

Dr. Van Dyke has put his information and ideas into very simple and enjoyable language, and you will undoubtedly find much that is new and of interest to you. If you don't, you are a far better citizen of "these United States" than most of us.

His remarks on education contrasting the American with the French system are enlightening and valuable. The chapter on self-expression is perhaps the best in the collection. It would naturally be, for it is this subject which Dr. Van Dyke knows and loves best and on which he discourses in a way that is unusually interesting.

Somebody's Birthday

Copyright, 1922 by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.

YOU should congratulate yourself if today is your birthday, for no matter what your particular fame in life may be, you should always have a gay life and a merry one. You are a true friend and a welcome comrade.

You are inventive, ingenious and have a splendid mind for business of a general nature. You will probably never be a specialist as your brain is too active to delve into the details necessary to expert knowledge. But you can understand the theory of a thing at a glance, and your personal magnetism should always find you some one to do the drudgery.

Your ensuing year will be marked by an unfortunate quarrel with one of the opposite sex, probably an unnecessary but inevitable break.

A child born today will be happy and generous but not entirely trustworthy.

Famous persons born this day:

Henry M. Breckenridge—Jurist and Historian.

George W. Scranton—Pioneer.

Theodore P. Wilson—Naval Architect.

Charles W. Fairbanks—Vice-President of the United States.
